But Secrecy Veil Still Drawn Tight Over Truman Talks

By OLIVER W. DE WOLF

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House shield of secrecy today threw a tight cover over a super-mysterious conference which brought President Truman together with top military, atomic, diplomatic and Congressional leaders.

For two hours and 33 minutes these men were together behind closed doors Thursday night in historic Blair House, the President's temporary home.

There was no announcement whatever of what went on. However, the identity of the participants pointed strongly toward some development in the atomic weapons field on an international level.

(The New York Herald Tribune said in a Washington dispatch that the meeting concerned "the advisability of continuing to exchange classified atomic energy data with Britain and Canada.)

The 16 men who conferred with Truman were singularly close-mouthed as they left. What little they did reply to reporters' questions could be summed up:

"If anything is going to be said, the President will say it."

Truman wasn't talking. There was no sign that he would later.

Eisenhower, Barkley At Session

Those at the meeting included Vice-President Alben Barkley, State Secretary Dean Acheson, Defence Secretary Louis Johnson, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who has been presiding as chairman of the Joint Military Chiefs of Staff; Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep.-Mich.), Republican foreign policy spokesman and member of both the foreign relations and joint atomic committees; Senator Bourke Hickenlooper (Rep.-Iowa), a member of both groups who made the "incredible mismanagement" charges against the Atomic Energy Commission, and chairman David E. Lilienthal of the A.E.C.

Senator Millard Tydings of the Senate armed services committee was asked if Russia and the atomic bomb were involved. He said he "wouldn't think so."

There was a general feeling that the meeting transcended the joint committee's long investigation into Hickenlooper's charges against the A.E.C. and Lilienthal. But observers did note that Hickenlooper himself had raised questions about relations with other countries on atomic energy during the investigation which now has entered a "closed door" phase.

Canadian Rail Unions Tell Attlee C.S.U. Discredited

MONTREAL (CP) — Frank Hall, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks (A.F.L.), spokesman for 16 International Railway Brotherhoods in Canada, announced today a telegram had been sent to Prime Minister Attlee that "The transportation unions in Canada are not supporting the Canadian Seamen's Union."

The telagram to the British Prime Minister said that the attitude of the London dockers striking in support of the alleged Communist-led C.S.U. is based on misinformation.

A copy of the telegram was also sent to Arthur Deakin, general secretary of the Transport and General Workers Union in London.

The telegram, also signed by 16 Canadian affiliates of the A.F.L., said "Our unions have for some time past declined to be associated in any way with the C.S.U. and we consider the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) to be more fitted to serve the interests of the seamen."

Say Britain Studies Semi-Barter Plan To Deal With U.S.

LONDON (UP)—Great Britain is preparing to propose a bilateral semi-barter arrangement with the United States at the critical financial and economic talks in Washington next September, it was learned today.

The British Labor government will tell the United States that the only way it can avoid making even further cuts in imports from the republic would be if the U.S. buys more from the British.

"We would be ready and eager to buy more tobacco and more cotton from America," one official said, "if American's would buy more rubber and other raw materials in the sterling area.

Such a proposal is expected to raise a storm in Washington, where bilateral agreements are looked upon as a plague and where continuing great pressure is exerted from multilaterialism and abandonment of bilateralism.

Six-Week Strike At Hamilton Ended

HAMILTON (BUP) — Employees of the National Steel Car Corporation plant at Hamilton, Ontario, returned to work today with the promise of fatter pay envelopes, ending a strike which began May 31.

An agreement reached between the company and the C.I.O. United Steelworkers of America granted 1,600 employees wage increases ranging from six cents an hour to four per cent plus four cents an hour. In addition, the work week was cut from 47 to 45 hours and provision was made for eight statutory holidays.

Australian State Declares Emergency As Coal Unloaded

MELBOURNE, Australia (BUP)—The Victoria State government today proclaimed a limited state of emergency as dockers refused to unload vitally-needed coal from a strikebound Canadian freighter.

A proclamation declaring that an emergency existed was issued by the state executive council as longshoremen declined to handle cargo that had lain dormant in the holds of the freighter Haligonian Duke for several weeks.

The order was made effective in an area comprising a radius of 25 miles from Melbourne. Its terms were limited to two weeks.

ESCORTS FOR TRUCKS

Premier A. Hollway said police squads would be called out to protect strikebreakers unloading the vessel, and to escort trucks carrying the badly-needed coal from the wharf to the city's gas works.

If gas workers joined dockers in refusing to handle the blacklisted coal, he said, further sections of the state's all-powerful essential services legislation would be brought into effect at a special meeting of the legislature.

The legislation provides maximum penalties of jail terms or fines of £100 (about $332) for persons convicted of obstructing services classified as essential to the state's welfare.

Hollway said volunteers already had come forward to offer their unloading services. He said they were being subjected to careful police screening in a careful bid to avoid sabotage.

The state cabinet appointed Maj.-Gen. Clive Steele, Australian war hero, as director of emergency labor with full control over the dock situation.

Hollway said tonight in a statewide radio broadcast that the Haligonian Duke dispute stemmed from disruptive Communist tactics that stemmed from Soviet Russia.

Thunderstorm Due

After a long hot spell, Victorians may do well to have their overshoes ready for use. Isolated thunderstorms and scattered showers are forecast by the Dominion Meteorological Observatory at Gonzales today.

According to officials at the observatory, the last thunderstorm here occurred last year on Aug. 29.

Gardeners, particularly those in water-restricted areas, will welcome the scattered showers, the first since June 29.

Another Dangerous Forest Fire Near Lake Cowichan

A second dangerous forest fire today is raging in the Lake Cowichan area.

Full details of the extent of the blaze and the damage it is causing were not immediately available today.

The blaze, however, is reported on the property of the Western Forest Industry Ltd. at Meade Creek. It is burning in an area out of which all crews had been withdrawn several days ago. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Company officials at Lake Cowichan said the fire, which broke out at 8 Thursday night, was brought under control during the night but had mushroomed up "like an atomic bomb" this morning.

The area in which the fire is burning was said to be half slash and half felled and bucked timber.

Western Forest Industries Ltd. officers reported they had closed one sawmill at Lake Cowichan this morning and assigned the entire 150-man crew to fight the fire.

Officials said that the fire fighters were being aided today by cloudy weather, the overcast being about 50 per cent. The atmosphere was considerably cooler than Thursday. On the other hand, a breeze was reported to have sprung up this morning and to be fanning the blaze.

Vancouver district forest headquarters reported the fire was 40 acres in extent and was believed under control.

A restricted industrial closure, affecting logging, sawmill and other operations, came into effect this morning for the southern half of Vancouver Island. It prohibits operations after 1 p.m. P.D.T. daily.

1,500,000 New Yorkers Walk As Bus Drivers Quit

NEW YORK (UP) — Some 1,500,000 bus riders walked or took taxis today as a wildcat C.I.O. Transport Workers' strike spread and shut down most of Manhattan's bus routes.

The cement canyons of the nation's largest city were jammed with foot-weary residents who were confronted with "no buses running" signs posted at bus stops on 30 routes from The Battery, at the south tip of the island, to Spuyten Duyvil, at the north.

Six hundred bus drivers and maintenance men of the Fifth Avenue Coach Company walked out at midnight, joining 2,000 other members of the C.I.O. Transport Workers' Union who struck Thursday in a dispute with the New York Omnibus Company over the economy lay-off of four mechanics.

A seven-hour meeting between representatives of the T.W.U. and the omnibus company, presided over by the city's newly appointed transit czar, Theodore Kheel, broke up Thursday night with no agreement in sight.

Viscount Alanbrooke Fishing For Salmon At Campbell River

Field Marshal Viscount Francis Alanbrooke, who planned some of the deadliest artillery barrages during the Second World War, was engeged today in a more peaceful pastime—fishing for salmon at Campbell River.

Lord Alanbrooke, a keen fisherman, expressed the hope of catching a "whopper" before motoring down to Victoria tonight. He will visit the city and tour the Hudson's Bay Co. store Saturday and on Sunday will leave by Trans-Canada Airlines plane for Vancouver. He is director of the H.B.C.

Regarded as one of the most advanced students of mechanized warfare, Viscount Alanbrooke earned the nickname of "Barrage King" during the First and Second World Wars. He also was Churchill's choice as supreme commander for the European invasion in the last war.

He is the brother of Lady Hylda Wrench, whose husband, Sir Evelyn, is chairman of the board of directors of the London Spectator. Sir Evelyn and Lady Hylda visited Victoria during the Second World War.

Tories To Dispute N.S. Liberal Win

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, N.S. (BUP)—The Progressive Conservative Party planned today to take to court a balloting dispute in the Annapolis-Kings riding which Thursday was awarded to the Liberals by a four-vote majority.

Angus A. Elderkin was declared Member of Parliament for the riding, following a recount of ballots cast in the general election June 27. The service vote gave 158 for Elderkin and 92 for his opponent, George C. Nowlan, P.C.

The Progressive Conservatives allege 100 airmen at R.C.A.F. Station Greenwood, N.S., voted in Annapolis-Kings when they should have cast ballots in other ridings.

Czech Prelate, Under Guard, Awaits Charges

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

PRAGUE (AP)—Gagged and literally under lock and key, defiant Archbishop Joseph Beran sat tight in his palace today waiting for the Communist government to make the next move against him and the Roman Catholic Church.

All sorts of charges have been made against him and his bishops by government officials and the controlled press — charges such as incitement to insurrection and "espionage for unfriendly foreign powers."

Would the Communists dare now to arrest the Primate when Slovak Catholics have demonstrated they will rise with primitive weapons in defence of village priests?

Catholic and diplomatic quarters appeared convinced the government would not deviate from its aim of crushing and shackling the church. The question was when and by what measures it now would proceed.

Informed diplomatic sources took this view of the situation:

1. The government by sheer power won the first round of the state-church fight by isolating Archbishop Beran and his bishops, placing them in semi-captivity and cutting them off from the faithful.

2. The government is pushing its separatist organizations, such as a Communist-sponsored Catholic Action movement. But the general view is that these are not doing as well as expected.

3. There seems now to be a period of "marking time" in which the Communists are producing daily a series of charges in their press against the bishops. These range from claims that the bishops collaborated with the Nazis to accusations that they are now the vassals of the "western imperialists."

U.S. Steel Plants Closing Down As Strike Hour Comes

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Large segments of the steel industry of the United States cooled furnaces and closed finishing mills today with the midnight strike deadline set by the C.I.O. United Steelworkers only 14 hours away.

Plants of the giant U.S. Steel Corporation and four large independents, representing more than two-thirds of the nation's annual steel ingot production, were grinding to a halt. Men were being sent home after the finishing of each process involved in making iron, steel and steel products.

Workers were notified there would be no more work until further notice. This freed the rank-and-file of the union to get an early start on plans for union meetings, picket lines and the traditional sandwich and soup kitchens.

The orderly and scientific process of bringing a steel mill to a halt started in many plants throughout the U.S. Thursday as a measure of "precaution."

Two Electrocuted In Freak Accident

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—A quarry worker and a housewife, a quarter-mile apart, were electrocuted Thursday when a heavy voltage cable fell across a telephone line and charged it. The quarryman, Earl Quillan, 48, was killed at the quarry, where the cable fell. A quarter-mile away, an extension of the telephone line had fallen and was showering sparks. Mrs. Edna Conder, 44, tried to cut it with a pair of scissors and was killed.

Flagstadt Banned At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Trustees of the San Francisco War Memorial Opera House late Thursday banned the scheduled autumn appearances of Wagnerian soprano Kirsten Flagstad.

The trustees said the action was taken "because of the controversial character of her appearances elsewhere in the United States."

British Troops Start Work Loading Export Cargoes

LONDON (CP)—Troops today started loading export cargoes for the first time at the Thames River docks where a wildcat strike has paralyzed shipping for 19 days and made 14,419 stevedores idle.

Some of the 6,000 troops assigned to the government-seized docks went to work on 10,000 tons of waiting automobiles, steel, pianos and other freight.

Others continued unloading food shipments from 17 more of the 134 ships tied up by the stoppage.

Meanwhile, leaders of the two unions representing the idle dockers met with Labor Ministry conciliator Sir Robert Gould for new efforts to settle the whole dispute.

After the meeting, the unions summoned their full executive committee to meet Sir Robert late today.

Officials, running the docks under a state of emergency declared by the King, said that by today there would be some 7,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen manning the docks.

Britain's motor industry said the dock stoppage was crippling its export of some 5,000 cars, trucks and tractors weekly through the London waterfront.

Three Hawaiian Unions Sued For $1,500,000

HONOLULU (UP)—A spokesman for the Matson Navigation Company said today that "severe losses" in the 76-day-old longshoremen's strike had prompted the company to file a $1,500,000 damage suit against three Hawaiian maritime unions.

The suit, filed in Federal court Thursday under the Taft-Hartley Act, names as defendants four locals of the C.I.O. International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, the C.I.O. Marine Stewards' Union and the independent Firemen's Union.

Matson asks, in addition to $1,500,000 in strike damages, $20,000 a day more until the walkout ends.

The suit, filed under the Taft-Hartley Act, charges the unions with "inducing and encouraging" Matson employees to strike and to engage in a "concerted refusal" to carry out their duties.

Matson says the unions exerted unlawful pressure to prevent the company from doing business with seven struck stevedoring companies or "with anyone else" in Hawaii.

UPKEEP PROBLEM

The company also says it has incurred losses in that it was deprived of the use of its ships and has had to maintain an idle fleet. Besides these were the losses suffered by the Moana and Royal Hawaiian hotels, both operated by Matson.

M. F. Cropley, Matson vice-president, estimated it would cost the company $20,000 a day from now on.

Ottawa Not Informed As To Washington Talks On Atom

OTTAWA (CP)—A high government official said today Canada has received no indication that the United States is preparing to cut off her exchange of atomic information with Britain and Canada.

He was commenting on the implications of President Truman's secretive Washington meeting Thursday with atomic and military leaders and reports that it concerned the exchange of information that is the lifeblood of international democratic atomic development.

"I don't know anything about the meeting," said the official. He is one of the first in Ottawa who would.

Ottawa officials always have been reluctant to discuss the degree and scope of the exchange of atomic knowledge. However, it is known there is not a complete exchange because the participating countries have taken the stand they should only exchange information that is vital to some problem under study.

In other words, there should be no exchange simply for the sake of exchange.

In this connection, Canada has not at any time asked for information about the atomic bomb because she is not interested in bomb production.

WOULD BE BLOW

A shutdown on the flow of U.S. information would undoubtedly be considered a major blow by Canada. In a tremendous field, it would represent the sort of isolation scientists abhor. Its blow to atomic progress would be incalculable.

For her part, Canada has always had a major contribution to make. It is her uranium which largely fuels the U.S. atomic plants. Her heavy water radioactive pile at Chalk River, Ont., is capable of tests beyond the scope of any other pile.

The Americans have made use of it more than once.

Steel Strike Averted As Chief Firms Bow To Truman Delay Plan

More Sterling Lands May Cut Dollar Buying

LONDON (CP)—Other members of the sterling area "unquestionably" will follow Britain's lead in reducing imports from dollar countries, Finance Minister Douglas Abbott of Canada said today.

"They haven't got what you have to use for money," he told newspapermen tersely.

* * *

The Canadian Minister made his comments at a press conference called to discuss the significance for Canada of the announcement by Britain that 1949-50 purchases from dollar areas will be cut by 25 per cent.

CUTS PROVISIONAL

Abbott said he doubts whether these cuts—which he stressed are provisional—will have any immediate adverse effect on Canada's trade. All existing contracts will be honored. But in the long run, the Dominion "will feel it, there's no question about that."

In reply to a question whether other sterling area countries would follow suit in reducing their expenditures in Canada, Abbott said the answer was "undoubtedly in the affirmative."

HE IS ASTONISHED

He said he sometimes was "stunned and astonished" by the high regard in which Canada is held by some sterling countries. He mentioned specifically Ceylon and India.

He declined to put a general figure on the extent to which the new import program will reduce Canada's sales.

Asked whether he foresaw the possibility of a serious drop of employment in Canada, Abbott replied negatively.

Sales Tax Evaders Face Clamp Down; Conviction Recorded

Provincial government officials reported today the first conviction under the sales tax law and said a clamp down was being effected on other possible offenders.

The first conviction was against Norman W. Dougherty, Vancouver, who pleaded guilty in police court of the theft of $1,263 in sales tax receipts from the provincial government. Dougherty has not yet been sentenced.

SEVERAL PAID UP

Provincial officials said that several other persons who had failed to submit sales tax moneys to the government had been questioned but had made restitution. As a result they had not been charged.

But officials said that leniency shown in these cases in the past would not continue.

"We're going after the others," said an official.

He remarked, however, that 99.5 per cent of the merchants and others making the sales tax collections had co-operated with the government.

Four New Case Of Polio On Mainland

VANCOUVER (CP)—Four new cases of poliomyelitis have been reported during the last 24 hours. Two of them were from Fraser Valley points, making the provincial total 35 cases.

The two new Vancouver cases bring to 23 the number in the city this year.

One of the Fraser Valley victims is a 21-year-old girl from Abbotsford and the other a 17-year-old girl from Crescent Beach.

Health officials report they expect the disease to reach its peak in August.

Poliomyelitis cases in the province now total 35.

Request Slash Of $300,000,000

LONDON (UP) — British Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps was reported today to have asked Canada and other Commonwealth countries to cut their dollar imports by some $300,000,000 during the next 12 months.

Cripps' reported proposals were said to be meeting some criticisms from Pakistan and South Africa, which complained that Britain's high prices and slow deliveries had compelled them to turn to dollar countries for urgently-needed essentials.

It was understood the proposed cuts concerned gasoline, automobiles, trucks, agricultural machinery, newsprint and some consumer goods.

INDIA'S POSITION

India was understood to have promised full support for the Cripps proposals provided she would be allowed to import agricultural machinery from dollar sources.

Cripps' scale of proposed cuts was said to have been fixed with the hope of affecting an approximate balance of payments for the sterling area in 1949-50, after allowing for Marshall Plan Aid.

Senator MacKinnon said:

Czech State To Take Full Church Control

PRAGUE (UP)—Justice Minister Alexej Cepicka said today that anyone trying to enforce the Vatican order excommunicating Communists here would be charged with treason against Czechoslovakia.

The Justice Minister gave the Communist government's answer to the Vatican decree in a speech bristling with accusations and denunciations against the church generally and its hierarchy.

BILL DRAFTED

Cepicka spoke just after the official news agency had disclosed that a bill had been prepared for the next session of parliament which would give the state control of the church throughout Czechoslovakia.

Although Prague newspapers still ignored the church decree, the Communist organ Rude Pravo said Vatican propaganda against eastern Europe is "full of lies."

As reported by the official news agency, the bill drafted for parliament would provide:

1. The state will hold the right to approve or disapprove of all church appointments from archbishop down to army chaplains.

2. The state will pay all priests' fixed annual salaries.

3. No priest will be paid if he has been sentenced by a civil court or if he is not "nationally reliable."

4. Churches will be required to inventory all property and will be forbidden to sell or transfer property without approval.

BUDGET SYSTEM

5. Churches will be requested to operate on budgets presented annually in advance.

6. Administrative supervision for the above powers will be vested in the ministry of education.

The bill will be discussed by the church session of the central action committee, the agency report said, and will be presented to parliament after the summer recess.

Action Means No Halt For 60 Days By Million Men

By HAROLD WARD

WASHINGTON (AP)—The steel industry's giants bowed to President Truman's insistence today and accepted his plan for dealing with their labor dispute.

Since the 1,000,000-member United Steelworkers (C.I.O.) already had accepted it, the action of the "Big Three" producers headed off for at least 60 days a strike scheduled to begin in some plants at midnight tonight.

Most of the smaller companies already had agreed to Truman's proposal—that he appoint a three-member board to investigate the wage-pension dispute and make recommendations for a settlement while, meantime, work continues for 60 days.

The big three—United States Steel, Bethlehem and Republic—rejected this idea when Truman advanced it Tuesday. Their stand was that he should act under the Taft-Hartley law. That law provides for fact-finding boards but says the boards shall not make recommendations.

In the face of White House pressure, they gave up today—first Bethlehem, the No. 2 producer; then Republic, No. 3, and finally, "Big Steel" itself, the United States Steel Corporation.

All emphasized they would not be bound by the board's recommendations. Truman had not asked that they, or the union, bind themselves to take the board's proposals.

City Post Office Contract Awarded

The federal government has formally awarded the $2,000,000 contract for construction of the Victoria post office and federal government building to Northern Construction and J. W. Stewart Ltd. of Vancouver.

It was reported earlier that the federal government had approved of the tender of the Vancouver construction company. The lowest of several submitted, Northern Construction and J. W. Stewart Ltd. had tendered to clear the site and erect the building for $2,062,700.

The firm has indicated it will start work on the project immediately.

EDMONTON (CP) — Under a blazing sun that has made a tinder box of Alberta's forests, some 200 men and seven bulldozers today fought 17 forest fires, eight of them burning out of control.

1,000,000 Feet Logs Destroyed

A second serious fire in the Lake Cowichan area, which broke out at 8 Thursday night, today has burned over 100 acres and blackened 1,000,000 feet of cold-decked and felled and bucked logs.

The fire is at Meade Creek on the operation of the Western Forest Industries Ltd. The fire started on the operation although the company reported all its men had been withdrawn from the area some time ago because of the high hazard.

Company officials said that the sawmill at Honeymoon Bay had been closed and the full crew of about 150 men assigned to fight the fire.

The crew and equipment available to the firefighters is considered adequate, and it is expected that with cooler weather today and overcast skies the fire should be brought under control shortly, barring adverse winds.

The blaze, company officials said, had been controlled during the night but had sprung up this morning, "like an atomic bomb." The figures on the area of the fire and the loss were given as of early this morning and it is possible that the loss now may exceed this amount.

The blaze is one of 13 new fires reported today in the Vancouver forest district. All the others, including blazes at Alberni, Oyster River, Wellington, two near Koksilah, and two at Comox Lake, have been either controlled or extinguished.

In other forest districts here is the count: Prince George, 33 fires, 70 men employed.

Prince George, 33 fires fought by 70 men; Kamloops, 22 fires fought by 74 men; Nelson, 15 fires fought by 85 men; Prince Rupert, one fire, no men.

The weather forecast promises some relief for the firefighting crews. Cloudy weather, with the temperatures down by 10 degrees, and showers today and tomorrow are predicted.

Because of the high hazard, the forest service, as of midnight tonight, will restrict industrial operations in the woods. For details of these restrictions.

Canadian Rail Unions Tell Attlee C.S.U. Discredited

MONTREAL (CP) — Frank Hall, vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks (A.F.L.), spokesman for 16 International Railway Brotherhoods in Canada, announced today a telegram had been sent to Prime Minister Attlee that "The transportation unions in Canada are not supporting the Canadian Seamen's Union."

The telagram to the British Prime Minister said that the attitude of the London dockers striking in support of the alleged Communist-led C.S.U. is based on misinformation.

A copy of the telegram was also sent to Arthur Deakin, general secretary of the Transport and General Workers Union in London.

The telegram, also signed by 16 Canadian affiliates of the A.F.L., said "Our unions have for some time past declined to be associated in any way with the C.S.U. and we consider the Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) to be more fitted to serve the interests of the seamen."

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

TOUCHING 'THANK YOU'S'

A FEW DAYS AGO I visited the Victoria High School to see the interesting exhibit that has been set up as part of the Summer School's Junior Red Cross workshop. And was much touched by the novel and artistic expressions of thanks sent to Canadian youngsters by children of other lands.

For they are sent in acknowledgement of the more than $600,000 worth of gifts donated since 1945 by this national organization to little sufferers in the war-ravaged countries.

Such gifts have included food and clothing for the children of the United Kingdom, Holland and Poland, as well as for Polish children in France and Germany, food, clothing and school supplies for the children of Czechoslovakia.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS

MILK AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES have been sent to France, together with artificial limbs for child war victims of that war-ravaged country; relief has been given to little Greek victims of the war, layettes have ben provided for the babies of Norway, shoes and stockings sent to the boys and girls of Finland and Austria.

Material help has also been sent to the Child Health Centre at Chengtu, China; repairs carried out at the Children's Sanatorium in Hungary, as well as medical care provided for pretuberculous children of Europe. Aid has also been given to British war nurseries.

Along with this humanitarian project on a national scale, the young members of B.C.'s Junior Red Cross have been making portfolios for exchange with other countries—as well as with other parts of Canada.

PICTURE PORTFOLIOS

THROUGH the medium of these what one might call glorified scrapbooks, an attempt is made to give the recipients in foreign lands a graphic, composite picture of the senders' school lives, their everyday living against a background of the community and country. And, thanks to ingenuity plus patience, they do it remarkably well.

In return for their gifts, alluded to earlier, and their portfolios, Junior Red Cross members in British Columbia schools have received portfolios from many countries. Those I saw came from Australia, France, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Belgium and Greece.

All were individually distinctive, some of them illustrated with colored views, original sketches and beautiful samples of handcrafts. Others were accompanied by varied gifts, such as dressed dolls in national costume, exquisite embroideries, carved wooden objects or blown-glass figurines.

TWO-FOLD BENEFIT

BUT THROUGHOUT all the portfolios and the accompanying letters ran the same motif—a touching "Thank you" to the helpers from the helped. As I looked over them, I glimpsed the deep underlying significance of this great humanitarian movement in the schools. Not only does it help to develop the child's bodily health, but it also stimulates their talent resources, widens their horizons and develops their characters.

Yet it is all voluntary. And one tiny school of seven pupils on one of our smallest Gulf islands sent in $41, which they had raised by doing the janitor work for a whole year!

DEVELOPS CHARACTER

AS TO THE exchange of portfolios, not only does this particular project bring realism to school social, history and geography studies by such contact with youngsters of foreign lands, but in the making of them the participants acquire a sense of responsibility and learn the value of communal cooperation.

And the long-range point of view of this movement, shared in by 41,000,000 child members in 55 countries, is best summed up in these words from the Junior Red Cross song:

"For universal peace we strive
With love our way is lighted,
For service to humanity
The Juniors are united."

The Progressive Conservatives allege 100 airmen at R.C.A.F. Station Greenwood, N.S., voted in Annapolis-Kings when they should have cast ballots in other ridings.

Viscount Alanbrooke Fishing For Salmon At Campbell River

Field Marshal Viscount Francis Alanbrooke, who planned some of the deadliest artillery barrages during the Second World War, was engaged today in a more peaceful pastime—fishing for salmon at Campbell River.

Lord Alanbrooke, a keen fisherman, expressed the hope of catching a "whopper" before motoring down to Victoria tonight. He will visit the city and tour the Hudson's Bay Co. store Saturday and on Sunday will leave by Trans-Canada Airlines plane for Vancouver. He is director of the H.B.C.

Regarded as one of the most advanced students of mechanized warfare, Viscount Alanbrooke earned the nickname of "Barrage King" during the First and Second World Wars. He also was Churchill's choice as supreme commander for the European invasion in the last war.

He is the brother of Lady Hylda Wrench, whose husband, Sir Evelyn, is chairman of the board of directors of the London Spectator. Sir Evelyn and Lady Hylda visited Victoria during the Second World War.

Six-Week Strike At Hamilton Ended

HAMILTON (BUP) — Employees of the National Steel Car Corporation plant at Hamilton, Ontario, returned to work today with the promise of fatter pay envelopes, ending a strike which began May 31.

An agreement reached between the company and the C.I.O. United Steelworkers of America granted 1,600 employees wage increases ranging from six cents an hour to four per cent plus four cents an hour. In addition, the work week was cut from 47 to 45 hours and provision was made for eight statutory holidays.

Asking Cash, Food, For British Dockers

MONTREAL (BUP)—The Canadian Seamen's Union, in an open letter addressed to all Canadian trade unionists and farm organizations, today asked for food and money to support British dockers it described as being "locked out."

T. G. McManus, C.S.U. secretary-treasurer, asked trade unions and farm groups to establish provincial and city committees. He called on each union to establish a committee in its immediate district.

In his letter, signed "Yours for international trade union solidity," McManus asked farmers to establish a drive for wheat, flour, potatoes and eggs.

Russian Artist's Works To Show Here

The paintings of Baron Knoop, an artist probably little known as yet to Victorians, will be seen at a new gallery showing of the Greater Victoria Arts Centre, 823 Broughton Street, opening Tuesday.

Baron Knoop now is living at Langford and is doing his painting in many parts of Vancouver Island. Born in Russia in 1888, he came to Canada two years ago after having lived in Denmark and Sweden. He did most of his painting in Sweden where his works can be found in many homes.

Although started as a hobby, his painting became a source of income when he escaped from Denmark to Sweden in 1940. Self-taught in part, Baron Knoop also has learned from famous artist friends who are Russian and Swedish academicians.

Titles of some of his works, which will be on display when the showing opens to the public at 11 Tuesday morning, include "Millstream, 1949," "Crossroad to Witty's Lagoon," "Colwood Golf Course, Winter '49," "April in Sweden" and "Silver Birches in Spring."

Hauled Bulldozer Damages Trestle

Repairs were completed this morning to the Helmcken Road C.N.R. trestle crossing, which was damaged by a Heaney's Cartage truck transporting a large bulldozer Thursday night. The accident closed the right-of-way to trains until repairs were done.

Due to a mistake in judging the height of the overhead, four huge beams, comprising half of the supports, were knocked out. Driver of the tractor truck and semi-trailer, Wilfred Rafford, 1203 Blanshard Street, was signalled to come through by the "cat" operator, when the accident occurred, according to William Heaney, cartage firm manager.

There were no personal injuries, but the truck cab was badly dented. There was some damage to the heavy bulldozer.

Brifain To Build Oil Refineries To Save Dollars

LONDON (Reuter)—Commonwealth finance ministers, in their private talks here Thursday, are understood to have discussed ways of saving dollars on oil and the possibilities of United States investment in the sterling area.

When the ministers met for the second day, Fuel Minister Gaitskell opened a general discussion on oil and its bearing on the sterling-dollar deadlock.

Imports of petroleum products and refining machinery into Commonwealth countries from hard-currency areas are believed to have been included in the discussion of oil.

All delegates took part in the discussion. Finance Minister Douglas Abbott represented Canada.

The ministers were confronted by the fact that the yearly cost of sterling-area gasoline is well in excess of $400,000,000.

Although the output of the British oil companies is much greater than consumption in the United Kingdom, the oil industry makes at present the largest single claim on dollar expenditure.

Plans to reduce this dollar drain by development of refining capacity in the Commonwealth and the United Kingdom — already projected by Britain—are being considered by the conference.

These plans visualize the establishment of a £125,000,000 ($500,000,000) industry in Britain covering seven new refineries or major extensions. Work has already begun on three of them.

Britain is also considerably increasing refinery capacity owned by British companies outside the United Kingdom.

OTTAWA (CP) — Chartered bank deposits decreased $44,470,000 to $564,789,000 during the week ended July 13, the Bank of Canada said Thursday in its weekly financial statement.

3,000 Boy Scouts Converge On Ontario For Huge Jamboree

OTTAWA (CP)—There was a hustle and bustle at the Connaught Rifle Ranges today as advance parties and volunteers set the stage for the greatest show the Boy Scouts of Canada have ever produced.

Nearly 3,000 of them will be there Monday when the Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, officially opens the first Canadian Boy Scout Jamboree.

Four tent villages are springing up on the shore of the Ottawa River, 14 miles west of the capital. They will accommodate scouts coming from all over Canada and the United States.

Each village has a name—Goodwill, Loyalty, Friendship and Courage, typical Boy Scout attributes.

Workers are shouldering carcasses of beef, sides of bacon and sacks of potatoes from trucks rolling steadily up to quartermaster stores. Food supplies are running into thousands and thousands of pounds.

Directing operations is camp chief Eli Boyaner of Saint John, N.B., New Brunswick provincial commissioner.

The volunteers are scout leaders, cub masters, lady cub masters and rover scouts. Lady cub masters will act as camp mothers.

Special trains carrying thousands of the campers are converging on the capital. A train in three sections is bringing scouts from the west, a Maritimes special is bearing more than 500 from the east and a Toronto special will carry most of the huge Ontario contingent.

Two C.C.F. Members Expelled For Opposing Atlantic Treaty

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Manitoba section of the C.C.F. Thursday night expelled from the party two of its ranking members for public utterances at variance with C.C.F. policy.

A closed session of the section's 14th annual convention took action against B. R. Richards and W. Doneleyko, who made speeches criticizing the North Atlantic Security Pact after it had been endorsed by the C.C.F. national convention. Both are members of the Manitoba Legislature—Mr. Richards for The Pas and M. Doneleyko for St. Clements.

A brief statement after the meeting said the two members "by public pronouncements and by the wholesale circulation of letters . . . had attempted to cast discredit on the national convention, the national council, the national caucus, the provincial council and the C.C.F. movement in general."

It added that the national convention of the party had given its approval to the plan for European recovery, called for extension of the principle of western economic union and approved the signing by Canada of the North Atlantic Pact.

The expulsion—proposed by Stanley Knowles, M.P.-elect for Winnipeg North Centre—was in line with predictions by informed sources that the party was prepared to make all members toe the line with respect to policy matters.

However, the post-meeting statement gave no indication of any action against several lesser party members in Manitoba who last spring lent their names to a document criticizing the North Atlantic Pact.

No English or Scottish peer can be elected to the House of Commons, but non-representative Irish peers are eligible.

Visible Wheat Decreases

WINNIPEG (CP)—In the week ended July 7, Canadian visible wheat stocks amounted to 65,300,000 bushels, as compared with 70,300,000 bushels in the previous week, the Board of Grain Commissioners reported Thursday.

The tower of Babel, one of the seven wonders of the ancient world, has completely disappeared.

MONUMENT TO SERVICE

AS A DEMONSTRATION OF COMMUNity mindedness, the new pavilion erected by the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club at the Willows Beach, and turned over yesterday to the municipal council, will receive favorable comment from all who appreciate such emphatic manifestations of a desire to serve. The structure, attractive and of obvious value to the popular recreational area to which it caters, fills an apparent need and should be a living indication of the objectives of the club which erected it. Not only does it make available facilities for refreshments and light repasts, it will be run on a basis calculated to raise funds for equipment for Oak Bay playgrounds and to provide a $50 annual scholarship for the best all-round student at Oak Bay.

A cynical world some years ago was inclined to agree with Bernard Shaw who, when asked where a specific service club was going, replied "To lunch." The pavilion located at the Willows Beach will help to remind the same cynics that service clubs are continually active in projects to increase the amenities which make life more pleasant for the people of their communities. The new structure is a suitable monument to that ideal.

THE PEOPLE ORDERED IT

SOME TIMID OR SUSPICIOUS SOULS already are beginning to worry because the re-elected Liberal government at Ottawa will have such a large working majority. Why there should be any qualms on this score is beyond our comprehension. Back in 1935 Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, for the first time in his parliamentary history, scored a victory after which he could command more followers than those of all the rest of the parties combined.

That was peacetime. We never heard any fears then about how the head of the government would use the unquestioned authority he had obtained. Naturally enough, the Canadian people were heaving a sigh of political relief at having ended five years of Bennettism, and had made sure that the Liberal leader would be free to deal with a situation—particularly in its economic aspects—which had grown progressively worse after the 1930 "time-for-a-change" gospel had had its full innings.

Again, in 1940, Mr. King added a few more to the majority he rolled up in 1935—178 out of a total House of Commons membership of 245. We do not recall anybody seriously expressing concern over the fact that the people of Canada rejected Dr. Manion's appeal for the return of sufficient candidates to help him to form a "National Government" composed of the "best brains of the country." Admittedly, the Second World War was in its so-called phoney stage during that campaign, but it would also seem to the point to say that Canadians knew what they wanted and went after it—in the polling booths. The inference is, and was, obvious. With these historic facts in mind, therefore, why should there be any suggestion that Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, now so emphatically confirmed as Prime Minister of Canada, might be tempted to use his record party majority in the national forum for anything but the best interests of the country of his birth.

Those who seem to be worried on that score, and those who may be thinking similar thoughts about Premier Byron Johnson in British Columbia and his Coalition's emphatic working majority in the provincial Legislature, might well take a walk through the woods or along the seashore one of these summer evenings and try to realize that what happened throughout the Dominion of Canada on June 27, and in this favored part of our nation on June 15, happened because the free and untrammelled voters of the nation so determined.

WHOSE SIN?

ACCORDING TO REPORTS WHICH ENjoy wide credence, there have been times in certain parts of Scotland when whistling on the Sabbath was considered improper to the point of immorality. To what extent a similarly strict reservation of the day for purely religious purposes may exist today, we do not know. Against such a tradition the censure by the Free Church of Scotland at Inverness of a news agent who sold week-end papers seems not too illogical. Nor should the description of the publication be ignored. In the church's words "the whole tenor of it is to harden against serious thought, thus having a deadening effect on the soul and causing the mind to become less vigorous and incapable of acting properly." Such criticism might be applied with equal justification to some of the cheap and questionable pulp products of this country.

But the indictment against the vendor, that he is "guilty of an enormous sin against a large section of the community," calls for one defence that should be offered in all sincerity. The publication, whatever its character, is offered for sale. Presumably it conforms to the laws of the land regarding decency in print. And no one is obliged to purchase it.

It is not our intention to defend the publication itself. We are ignorant of its contents. It might be no more sinful than whistling on the Sabbath, or it might even put to shame the undesirable material which rolls from some Canadian presses. The point we wish to make is this: Holding the vendor guilty of "an enormous sin" promises no cure for the bad reading habits of "a large section of the community."

The possibility of correction, it would appear, lies chiefly in the power of those who influence that section of the population—just as prevention of undesirable results from crime comics and the like in Canada devolves on the mentally adult who should be responsible for the reading trends of the intellectually immature in this country.

LOSING NO TIME

THAT THE SPEECH FROM THE Throne in Newfoundland's first Legislature in 15 years should emphasize social legislation will be readily understood by sister provinces throughout the Dominion. The various parts of Canada have made sweeping progress in the field of human welfare during the time the island province has been under commission control. From Ottawa, moreover, have originated programs of a nature which need provincial action of a complementary nature. Hence, in its new position, Newfoundland must necessarily introduce measures calculated to furnish the most good to the most people along avenues joining the broad path of national progress in that direction.

As the legislation comes up for debate, the fact will become apparent to the people of Newfoundland that the increased services which they will receive will necessitate substantial expenditure of public funds. And because of this, prudence will have to be exercised lest the costs of what is sometimes called "the welfare state" do not become top-heavy. At the same time, the people of the Atlantic region might look across the Dominion to British Columbia for an example of wisely-planned and highly-satisfactory programs of social welfare. It is not that we think our own arrangements need no improvement, but the position this province holds in this sphere of public activity in Canada may well furnish our distant fellow-Canadians with examples which they may observe with profit.

One of the difficulties experienced by Newfoundland in recent years—specifically those preceding the warborn prosperity of that strategic island—has been an inability to finance services that were desirable and, in some cases, essential. Thus it is encouraging to note that one of the first undertakings of the new Legislature is to improve services in a manner that should reduce the gap between the 10th province and its more advanced partners in Confederation.

WHEN BEACHES ARE NEEDED

THE WEATHER OF THE LAST FEW days has lent emphasis—if any were needed—to the necessity for speedy action to overcome the polluted condition of two of Victoria's most attractive beaches. On Wednesday, as pictured in yesterday's news columns, the Willows attracted such a throng that space was at a premium for those who wished seashore refuge from the heat. The warnings given by the health department at Foul Bay and Ross Bay were sufficient to keep away the public—or the percentage of it which would otherwise frequent those localities.

This is not presented in undue criticism of the public works department, which, by report, is expending adequate time and effort in the task of rehabilitating the two beaches now virtually isolated by a condition which threatens health. The chairman and members, together with the staff of the department concerned, have shown reasonable dispatch in giving the matter attention—a task in which they have been furnished excellent assistance free of charge by the Boy Scouts. On the other hand, it must be clear to all members of the City Council, and all employees under them, that no time should be lost in restoring Foul Bay and Ross Bay to a status which will make them suitable places in which adults and children alike may enjoy the summer.

Today the committee concerned is meeting to determine what action should be taken. We leave to the good judgment of its members the decision on what may be the most expeditious manner of dealing with the situation. But one point we do underline: Whatever course is to be pursued, it should be followed immediately. If delays are threatened in the ordinary routine of correcting the undesirable condition that exists, it cannot be urged too strongly that this condition is an emergency, and that emergency action is justified to cope with it.

Matter Of Fact

HOW TO HUNT GUERRILLAS

THE ASTONISHING effectiveness of guerrilla warfare is the most striking phenomenon in southeast Asia. Guerrillas are the Kremlin's great weapon in this part of the world. Guerrillas have almost pushed the French into the sea in Indo-China. Communist guerrilla forces are active in Burma. And here in Malaya a mere handful of incompetent Chinese Communist guerrillas have forced the British to arm tens of thousands of men and to spend hundreds of thousands of pounds.

THE REASONS are simple enough. One man, with a percussion cap like a 4th of July toy, and a few pounds of plastic explosive, can derail a train. When the train leaps the tracks, the man can be many miles away, going about his peaceful business. It is almost as easy and safe to mine a road, to ambush an unsuspecting convoy, or to kill the key men on a key plantation. As long as the guerrillas' arms hold out, regular forces are amazingly helpless against them, provided the guerrillas have two essential assets.

One asset is the active support of at least a part of the population, so that the guerrillas can be fed, hidden, and above all, informed. The second asset is a safe place—a "funkhole," the British call it—to which the guerrillas can escape for rest and reorganization.

BRITISH STRATEGY here is now designed to deny these assets to the Communists. The Malayans are anti-Communist; but nearly half the people of Malaya are Chinese. The Chinese here are influenced by what has happened in China. Thus the Communists' chief sources of support have been the villages of Chinese squatters who have settled on public or private land, often deep in the jungle, to grow their rice or millet. The British have been driven to using novel techniques to cut the Communist fighters off from the squatters' villages. First, they are creating a complex network of interlocking police posts in or near the villages. If a village helps a guerrilla band, the British then employ a technique they call "screening." Ordinarily, captured guerrillas are hanged after an extremely rapid trial. But a guerrilla captured in the area of a guilty village may be given a chance to buy his life.

THE CAPTIVE is placed behind a screen in the village police post. He peers through a peephole while the entire population of the village files by. He identifies those who have helped his band—"She gave food," "He gave money," "He is a bandit." If there is real evidence to support such an accusation, the accused may be deported or hanged.

There is another, more drastic method. An incorrigible village, known regularly to help the Communists, may be moved bodily away and put behind barbed wire. Thus the British are isolating the guerrillas. And the technique is beginning to work. Accurate information on guerrilla movements is now beginning to come in from the squatters' villages.

THE BRITISH have also developed techniques for dealing with the "funkholes." The guerrillas hide out in the mountain jungles, and it is only necessary to fly over the mountains to realize what magnificent cover the mountains provide. Here is a continuous green umbrella, which wholly screens all movements. Since the British learned to pierce this umbrella they have discovered large guerrilla camps, complete with lecture halls plastered with pictures of Stalin and appropriate quotations from the Communist classics.

One way of piercing the umbrella is an "area shoot." The area of a known Communist concentration is carefully mapped, and planes are dispatched to shoot up the green, unprotesting jungle as methodically as a farmer plows a field. This kills few guerrilas (a shallow slit trench is almost complete protection) but it frightens them and keeps them on the run.

A MORE important technique is to "beat" the guerrillas in a trap, as pheasants are beaten to the waiting guns in England. Air drops make this possible, since without air drops the troops doing the beating could not be supplied. The troops close in on a guerrilla concentration, and the guerrillas rereat (as they must, for guerrillas can never stand and fight). If all goes well (which it often does not, since many guerrillas slither out between the "beaters") the guerrillas hit a "stop." This is a concentration of fire power, usually along a river line. As this is written, two such "bandit hunts" are under way.

THE BRITISH also hope to reach an arrangement with Siam to close the long Siamese border, over which 1,000 guerrillas have escaped since the British noose began to tighten. Thus by destroying the last funkholes, by isolating the guerrillas from all support, and by arming 25 men to each guerrila under arms, the British hope in time to win their war. But few think that it can be done in less than a year.

That a handful of bedraggled Communist guerrillas could so challenge British power, even while most of the people here are active British allies, is a remarkable fact, and a fact which American military planners would do well to study. For guerrila warfare, that most primitive form of warfare, is changing the face of postwar Asia.

'Look, One Finger!'

Last Assignment--Indonesia

S. Burton Heath, NEA Service staff writer and one of the deans of American reporters, whose stories and comment have appeared regularly in the Victoria Daily Times for many years, was one of 14 prominent U.S. newspapermen killed in the crash of a Royal Dutch airliner near Bombay last Tuesday. Mr. Heath, who traveled extensively to dig for news all over the world as NEA's "reporter at large" since 1942, was returning from a month's assignment in Indonesia. A Pulitzer prize winner in 1939, he was always more proud of his distinction as an "old school reporter" whose diggings had brought him acclaim as an economics, labor and political specialist. Born in Lynn, Mass., in 1898, he graduated from the University of Vermont in 1926 after beginning his newspaper career as an apprentice printer on the Bedford, Vt., Opinion in 1913. He was with the Associated Press in New Haven, Conn., and New York for two years before joining the staff of the New York World-Telegram in 1932. He had been editor and columnist for McClure Newspaper Syndicate for a year before coming to NEA Service. During World War I he served overseas with 102nd Infantry, 26th Division, A.E.F., and after World War II wrote the story of a new kind of warfare as a witness at both the Bikini atom bomb tests. Author of numerous magazine articles outside his regular assignments, Mr. Heath lived with his wife and two children at Darien, Conn.

Mr. Heath's coverage of his last assignment begins in the article published herewith.

BATAVIA, Java—U.S. diplomacy has committed another major blunder in the Far East.

Having lost China, the United States has now given Moscow the opportunity for which she has been waiting and working, to move into Indonesia, an area that might prove the key to a major war in the Pacific.

Directly and through the United Nations, the United States has forced the Dutch to free Indonesia so quickly and suddenly that, for the next five years, during which World War III may be made either unavoidable or improbable, there will be no stable government here.

The United States has thrown whole-hearted support to the least democratic, least western-minded political group in the islands, thereby giving it a position of dominance in the coming new government.

STRATEGIC IMPORTANCE

Military and businessmen feel sure that Washington must be aware of the strategic importance of Indonesia, in any possible war between Russia and the democracies. There are two major reasons for this:

First, because these islands are an aerial crossroads of the South Pacific. From Batavia to Australia is only 1,600 miles; to the Philippines is about 1,400 miles. From Java, from Borneo, from Sumatra, from Celebes, modern long-range bombers could harass the Philippines, Australia, the sea routes of the Indian Ocean, the South China Sea, the South Pacific in general.

Second, because the islands are rich in vital oil. There are known reserves of a billion barrels. A. Wright, acting general manager for Standard-Vacuum, has no doubt that another billion could be discovered when needed.

S. BURTON HEATH

China is pretty thoroughly in Moscow's hands now. Soviet agents are operating diligently in Indo-China, Burma, Malaya. Observers who have studied that area would be surprised if the Communist push is not continued southward from China—toward Indonesia.

SOVIET ACTION

This fear is strengthened by statements made in Moscow the other day by Evgency Zhukov, corresponding member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences. In a report short-waved to this area, he told of the role played by the Soviet Union in independence movements here, in Malaya and Burma and Vietnam and elsewhere.

Many non-Dutch observers here believe that the United States, Great Britain and other western democracies have a tremendous stake in the maintenance of a stable government here. Such a government would be anxious and able to resist Soviet aggression, and, against a real attack in force, could be trusted to call upon the western military powers for assistance.

There was a chance to get such a government here. The United States deliberately turned its back on that opportunity, and gave its whole-souled support to a group whose intentions are questionable and whose ability is yet more doubtful.

Impressive Gains Against VD

News of Norway

FOLLOWING an upsurge during the occupation years, reported cases of venereal disease in Oslo have dropped steadily since 1946, and according to a recent review by Health Inspector Dr. H. Christian Gjessing have shown a marked decrease during 1948.

Not the least responsible for this positive showing is new national legislation which went into effect on Jan. 1, 1948. Under the law, any person fearing contagion is legally bound to report to a physician for free treatment at which times the source of contagion is to be disclosed if possible. During 1947, when 2,731 cases were reported, contagion sources were given in 333 or 12 per cent of the cases. Between January and November of last year, with 1,398 cases on record, sources were found in 569 or 40 per cent of the cases.

ENCOURAGING RESULTS

This reporting by practising physicians, extended use of penicilin and an intense public information campaign are held jointly responsible for the encouraging results.

Oslo, which boasts one of the most complete sets of venereal statistics in the world, has yearly records going back to 1880. According to these it is evident that the rise and fall of venereal disease has followed the curve of economic prosperity and recession. Syphilis and gonorrhea were most prevalent in the 1890's following the first World War, and during the German occupation—periods during which there was considerable money in circulation. The latter instance had little to do with economic well-being, however, but was due rather to the quantities of German-printed money available and to the relatively free sale of alcohol, according to Dr. Gjessing.

Helping Veterans

Windsor Star

By 1950, Canada will have spent $1,500,000,000 in assisting war veterans get established in civilian life. This is apart from hospital care and pensions.

This expenditure is not only a national repayment of a debt to these men. Also it is a sound investment, which will pay good dividends to the nation, as well as to the individuals, in the years to come.

Affects Few

Edmonton Journal

Pravda complains bitterly about a Soviet factory which manufactures $24 silk shirts; the collars and cuffs of its products fall off without provocation. We don't imagine this affects the Russian masses very much, but the members of the Politburo doubtless feel it as a personal grievance.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press News Analyst
(for DeWITT MACKENZIE)

PUT YOURSELF in the shoes of a Polish peasant.

He is a Roman Catholic and a devout one in a land where a relatively small body of Communists controls virtually every phase of his day-to-day life.

He is forced, of necessity, to have contact with the Communist propaganda, if only through reading official orders of the government. Assume he has learned of the Vatican excommunication decree, through his diocesan authorities, forbidding him to expose himself to Communist doctrine.

Is he faced with the necessity of disobeying the government and depriving himself of a living? From a literal reading of the decree excommunicating Communists and forbidding Catholic contact with them, this might appear to be the case. However, the effect probably would be to make his contact with his parish priest closer than ever.

IN THE MIDDLE

The parish priest, his confessor, would have the authority to judge what this peasant could and could not do if he wanted to avoid the risk of cutting himself off from the sacraments of the church.

The crux of the matter is the conscience of the peasant, as his priest most likely would instruct him. Reading government notices which vitally affect his everyday life would not constitute wilful disobedience. Exposing himself knowingly to Communist propaganda would.

He is inevitably caught between two systems of supreme authority, the church holds itself supreme in all spiritual matters. A Communist government claims supremacy in temporal affairs, and wants authority over church affairs, too.

What the peasant must do is sort the wheat from the chaff, with the assistance of his spiritual advisor. He must now learn what he has to reject and what he may accept.

ONE CHOICE

To good Catholics, this can be a matter of spiritual life or death. To citizens of Communist countries, it can be life or death, period.

The Vatican has unsheathed its supreme weapon—and the Communists have asked for it. They have attacked the church in all the countries of eastern Europe, and even in northern Korea.

Widespread rebellion may already have begun in Czechoslovakia, for instance, as Catholic peasants support their priests who are victims of Communist campaigns against them. It may spread, weaken the Communist hold in such countries, and alter the political face of eastern Europe.

On the other hand, if Communist control is strong enough, local church groups may have to adjust themselves if they are to live.

In any case, the Vatican's order seems to mean that as far as it is concerned there is to be no compromise in the religious phase of the cold war.

A farmer of 95 says he hasn't consulted a doctor since back in 1870. "Cured" by one of those old-time country docs, you either died or your stayed cured!

INADEQUATE ALIBI

Winnipeg Free Press

The prize for the silliest alibi for defeat in the recent election goes to Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan. The C.C.F. in that province was cut down from 18 to onet-hird less. Failure in Saskatchewan, the only province which has had the experience of being governed by the C.C.F., was the chief factor in the general collapse of the C.C.F. Mr. Douglas now comes along to say that "heavy rains in the northern part of Saskatchewan" are responsible "for the C.C.F. losing rural seats in the federal election."

In a word, one good summer rain sufficed to wash away Mr. Douglas and his party.

During the Battle of the Bulge in December, 1944, the Allied commanders in explaining their retreat said much about the snow and the fog. Commenting upon these alibis, Gen. Pershing made the remark—"what about the enemy? Is there different weather on the other side of the fighting line?"

Does Mr. Douglas suggest that an ill-favored providence directed the rain only upon C.C.F. voters?

Church Council Urges Firm Stand Against Dictators

CHICHESTER, Sussex, Eng. (AP) — The World Council of Churches is calling on Christians throughout the world to "stand firm against totalitarianism."

The policy-forming central committee of the council concluded a six-day session here Thursday.

The policy statement was formulated at a closed session at which the principal speaker was Dr. Joseph L. Hromadka of Prague. Sources close to committee leaders said Dr. Hromadka asserted Protestant churches in many Soviet-satellite countries are not involved in the struggle between the various governments and the Roman Catholic Church. He was quoted as saying Czech Proestant preachers are not being hindred by the Communist-dominated government.

The committee resolution held that the "churches themselves must bear no small part of the blame for resentment among the underprivileged masses of the world, since their own efforts to realize the brotherhood of man have been so weak.

"But justice in human society is not to be won by totalitarian methods. A totalitarian doctrine is a false doctrine.

"In countries where the state is antagonistic to the Christian religion or wherever full religious freedom is denied, we ask all Christians to remember that the liberty which they receive from their Lord cannot be taken away by violence or the threat of any worldly power or destroyed by suffering."

Earlier Thursday the committee criticized "any church which seeks to use the power of the state to enforce religious conformity." The action was taken after a British Baptist clergyman had cited what he termed the "oppression" of Protestants in Spain.

Navy Wives Protest Sailing Of Vessel

HALIFAX (CP)—A group of indignant Halifax navy housewives is protesting the sailing of Canada's weather ship St. Stephen Sunday for her annual refit at Saint John, N.B.

The ladies petitioned this city's two members-elect of parliament—John Dickey and Gordon Isnor—to intervene on their behalf after, they maintained, the sailing decision was given "the lower deck" on short notice. Result—holiday plans will have to be junked.

The wives said their husbands had missed both Christmas and Easter at home while the St. Stephen patrolled weather station Baker off Labrador. Now, the navy declined to say how long their hubbies would be absent at Saint John.

Neither Mr. Dickey nor Mr. Isnor has commented. However, the navy said that as far as it knew, St. Stephen would sail Sunday as scheduled.

In medieval morality plays a special character who acted as an attendant on the devil was styled "the Vice."

Police Can Put You In The Stocks For Playing Games Here Sunday

Baseball players or any person taking part in sports on Sunday in Victoria could be shackled in "public stocks" for a period of three hours or as an alternative fined three shillings and four pence.

This may seem far-fetched to Victorians but, according to Jack G. Ruttan, who addressed the Lions Club at the Empress Hotel this afternoon, it is no laughing matter. The penalties for infractions of the Sunday Observance Act are set right down in provincial statutes.

Mr. Ruttan spoke on some of the peculiarities of Canadian law. His address was entitled "The Law is an Ass," a quotation attributed to Bumble the beadle in Dickens' "Oliver Twist."

"I have no doubt that most of you, at one time or another, have felt that the law was an ass," said Mr. Ruttan. "Why some of these laws are in existence today can't be explained logically. They stem from the past."

'IT'S THE LAW'

Mr. Ruttan said very little could be done to remedy the matter. "It's the law," he said, "and law is law."

He pointed out that the Sunday Observance Act is included in the revised statutes of British Columbia of 1948. The act states "that certain other acts will apply to the area only of such portions of this province comprised in the former seperate colony of British Columbia."

In order to enact the law, Mr. Ruttan pointed out, a judge would be obliged to consult acts passed in England in 1622, 1665 and 1831. By these statutes, certain penalties were put down for not observing the Lord's Day and the penalties were payable in shillings and pence.

NO BEAR BAITING EITHER

One of these penalties was three shillings and four pence for anyone found guilty of taking part in sports on a Sunday, he said. The penalty also applied to people enjoying themselves at "bull and bear baiting contests."

If the money can not be found for the fine and can't be levied on the offender's goods and chattels, Mr. Ruttan said, the offender can be placed in public stocks for a period of three hours.

"These statutes also prohibits any hunting on Sunday or Christmas Day," Mr. Ruttan added. "The fine is five pounds."

According to Mr. Ruttan the law makes it cheaper to kill a man than to injure him.

He was speaking on a more serious theme—civil actions for death. The law in general, he explained, stated that the only man who had a right to damages for injuries resulting in his death was the man himself.

"The point is if he is not around how can he claim damages," said Mr. Ruttan.

Mr. Ruttan advised the members if they saw they were going to be involved in an accident they might as well "make it a good one."

BETTER A BACHELOR

"But be sure not to hit a breadwinner," he said, "because the widow can sue you for the loss of her breadwinner. Single out a bachelor."

Speaking on the laws governing lotteries, Mr. Ruttan said strictly speaking every lottery held in Victoria was illegal according to law. This includes lotteries for the sale of cars done in the name of charity.

However, you can win something if you can show it was won through skill," said Mr. Ruttan. "Hence the rise in quiz programs which were largely devised to get around the law. You buy a lottery ticket but you can't get the prize if you have the lucky number unless you answer a question correctly."

He pointed out that the courts in recent years had been lenient in determining what was "skill." For instance a judge had ruled that guessing the number of beans in a jar required skill. Another magistrate had come to the conclusion that estimating the weight of a cake required skill.

DIVORCE LAW OF 1850

Speaking on divorces, Mr. Ruttan said the B.C. divorce laws were based on the English statutes passed in 1850 and which since then had been revised in the United Kingdom.

"We have done nothing to change our divorce laws," he said. The present laws, which stipulates only one ground for divorce, encourages perjury and dishonesty among perfectly honest people. He felt that something should be done to remedy the situation.

Mr. Ruttan also pointed out that according to law a boy or girl was an infant up to age of 21 years and could not be sued for debt or breach of contract until he or she had become of age. They could only be sued for food and clothing, he said.

A husband was also not liable for his wife's debts, as a large part of the public were under the impression, he said. He was only liable for not providing for his wife's necessities such as food, bed and clothing.

In conclusion, Mr. Ruttan said all was not bad in the law and there were many checks and counter-checks to prevent injustice. One of the most important laws was the "Writ of Habeas Corpus" which protected citizens from being unjustly treated.

"That is a law which both Germany and Russia have never had," he said.

Thumb Sucking Habit Under Fire In Heated Controversy

By R. J. Anderson
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Take a child of, say, six months to three years, let it stick a thumb into its mouth and—

The Canadian Dental Association is disturbed. The Federal Department of Health, concerned with a nation's welfare and touched in a tender spot, is disturbed. Mothers are disturbed. In fact, the only one undisturbed in what seems to be developing into a national controversy are the children.

The Dental Association's concern is with a pamphlet recently put out by the department which, the dentists think, favors thumb-sucking by infants. At a meeting in Toronto this week they urged that it be withdrawn. The department declined, explaining that the booklet says only that the practice of thumb-sucking should be viewed with concern only if it is prolonged past the age of one year. That, it says, means trouble—something is wrong with the baby.

To get the views of those directly concerned in what seemed to be a country-wide problem, the Canadian Press Thursday night asked mothers what they thought. Those with daughters favored with good looks and frequently in the news were selected. Obviously, these girls hadn't buck teeth and underslung jaws, defects which many dentists say are the result of sucking their thumbs as babies. Had they sucked their thumbs?

FOR AND AGAINST

The result was inconclusive. Mrs. R. A. Ferguson, mother of beauteous Betty Jean Ferguson who was Miss Halifax of 1948 and went on to become Miss Canada, said no, her daughter had never sucked a thumb. On the other hand, Mrs. C. A. Kane, whose daughter, Bette, is Miss Halifax of 1949, said Bette sucked her thumb until she was three years of age. No gain there.

A point for the anti-thumb-sucking forces came from Mrs. William Ferriman, mother of Diddi Ferriman who was Miss Toronto of 1948. Diddi, said Mrs. Ferriman, certainly never stuck a thumb in her mouth and hasn't she a nice set of teeth?

George Grescoe, father of another Canadian often in the news, said in Winnipeg that his daughter, Donna, noted for her playing of the violin, never sucked her thumb in childhood. He didn't say what he thought of the habit but noted that he hadn't done so himself as a child.

The strongest support for those who think that thumb-sucking isn't a serious habit came from a woman in an eastern Canadian city who said she saw nothing wrong with what she termed a "natural" practice and who was addicted to it herself, with the full consent of her father, a dentist. This woman, who declined to permit use of her name, was a local beauty contest winner of 1913.

Tells Modern Bride To Disregard Dust

WASHINGTON (CP) — A woman who makes brides her business says grandma was a babe-in-the-woods compared with the modern young missus.

"She's a pretty wonderful girl, you know," says Mrs. Marjorie Binford Woods, editor-in-chief of a magazine for brides. "She is smart, sensible and capable, and she is prepared to play a duel role in marriage—that of breadwinner and housewife.

"At 20 years of age, she is ready to cope with a mode of marriage that her mother or grandmother, at an older age, would not have dared to try."

Therefore, says Mrs. Woods, today's dewy-eyed bride should not attempt to be the kind of housekeeper that grandma was. By learning "intelligent neglect," she can be casual about her housework, do as much as she is able, and let a little dust fall where it may.

Still with us, men? — Mrs. Woods has more advice for that sweet young thing you married last month:

Talk husband into helping around the house.

Let the laundry darn his socks.

Learn the joys of frozen foods, and don't worry if you cannot cook a cherry pie—you can always call on the corner bakery.

Today's Recipe

MOLDED RICE PUDDING

Two cups cooked rice, one No. 2½ can apricots, two tablespoons gelatin, quarter-cup cold water, two slices pineapple, cut up; one cup whipping cream, two tablespoons sugar, one teaspoon vanilla.

Put one cup of white rice, one teaspoon salt and two cups cold water in a two-quart saucepan. Cover with a tight-fitting lid. Set over a hot flame until it boils vigorously. Then reduce the heat as low as possible and simmer for 14 minutes more. During this time the rice will absorb the water and come out deliciously tender. Remove the lid to permit the rice to steam dry. Lift rice with a fork to test its consistency. Never stir rice while cooking—and the grains will be separate and tender. Makes approximately three and one-third cups fluffy white rice. Keep left-over rice in a covered bowl in refrigerator—you'll find it handy next time you're in a hurry to fix a quick meal.

Add the juice from the can of apricots to the cooked rice. Stir over a low flame until rice has absorbed the juice. Soak gelatin in cold water. Stir into hot rice. Add all except a few apricots (saved for garnish) which have been rubbed through sieve. Mix in pineapple. Mix lightly so as not to mash the rice. When mixture begins to set, add whipped cream which has been mixed with sugar and vanilla. Pour into a cold rinsed mold and allow to chill. Turn out onto a platter and garnish with apricot halves and whipped cream, if desired.

This will make eight to 10 delightful, easy-to-keep-in-the-ice-box servings.

Traveled Fruit

TREORCHY, Glamorgan, Wales (CP) — Eight hundred miners' wives and daughters picked stems from strawberries sent here from Cambridge because of a labor shortage there. From here the berries will go to Scotland for jam-making.

Pastels Spurned

EDMONTON (CP) —The colored stocking fad is dying an inconspicuous death in the Alberta capital. Hosiery department clerks say the pretty pastel shades just don't sell.

Clever Creations Shown In New York Lamp Display

NEW YORK (CP) — Aladdin's magic lamp may have been able to do more but the lamps on display in a current showing are much more attractive.

Perhaps goaded by a remark of Marcel Breurer, architect, that he could find no suitable lamps with which to furnish his museum of modern arts exhibition house, lamp designers and manufacturers have gone all-out to prove their inventiveness and versatility.

Some of the designers have approached abstract art in their manipulation of ceramics in lamp bases.

One in this group, called "The Big Catch," has a shade in a printed fish motif, overlaid by netting. The base is a ceramic fish on a wooden block.

CORNER-TABLE LAMP

An interesting corner-table lamp has a base of pickled walnut, in the form of a right angle. Curving brass tubes at each end of the base support cylindrical fibreglass shades. Or it can be obtained with one continuous right-angled shade.

Two floor lamps have rolled steel shafts, fibreglass shades and wooden bases. The base of one looks like a wooden dumb-bell.

Some of the floor lamps have curved stems in order to allow the standard to fit under a desk or chair and still obtain the maximum lighting effect.

A shade, designed in the shape of a shaker bonnet—longer at the top than the bottom—has the lamp bulbs concealed from direct view.

There are attractive versions of the popular shapes — torsos, leaves, masks and horses' heads —with brass and copper bases.

'Window Trimming' Necessary For Successful Career Girl

OTTAWA (CP) —Watch that "window-trimming," girls.

This advice for the would-be career woman comes from the president of the Canadian Business Schools Association. He is C. P. Wells of Guelph, Ont., who has been 26 years in the business of fitting boys and girls for the employment market.

Mr. Wells, head of Guelph Business College, is attending the C.B.S.A. three-day annual meeting in progress here.

He said today in an interview that every business student should aim first at making himself as adept as possible in his work. Then a job will naturally follow.

When the time comes to seek that all-important interview with a prospective employee the student should know how to conduct himself. This is where the "window-trimming" comes in.

Mr. Wells said a girl should choose an inconspicuous type of dress for an interview. She should be a person "you could meet and not know what she was wearing."

Correct posture and good speech are equally important.

Ability to work with others and correct use of the English language are two "musts" for the stenographer and the typist anxious to get ahead in the business world.

Mr. Wells said Canada's business schools are spending increased time on spelling—which they now call "vocabulary study."

The blind spot is the point where the optic nerve enters the ball of the eye.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

'CRYING IT OUT' CAN BE HARMFUL

No matter how often the newer books on child care explain the futility and the mistake of letting a baby "cry it out," mothers continually refer to it as a method of discipline and one with some seeming magic in it.

In truth, it makes for, instead of ending difficulties. The baby had only one means of communication with the persons about him. When he cries it is not for exercise, it is because, for the moment, he is uncomfortable, he is hungry for food or for the touch of a loving hand or the need to cuddle next to someone warm and strong.

A parent's answers to these needs is the basis of the child's much-talked-of sense of security. When he is young and new in the world, he does not recognize that he has parents and a roof over his head, he knows what the world is like only by what happens to him.

If he cries and no one answers, no one fulfills his demands, and he is alone and neglected, that recognition fills him with fear. He develops a sense of frustration—you would, too—and a belief that he must cry longer and fight harder to get some attention. No baby should have to carry such an inappropriate burden.

The needs of a baby are so simple and easily satisfied. They become difficult only for mothers who get the deluded idea that crying will teach him not to be unreasonable in his demands, keep him from being spoiled, teach him not to cry.

The opposite is nearer the truth. When the baby discovers that his demands are met, his needs satisfied, he has no particular frustration. He doesn't feel helpless. He feels secure.

He knows, by his experience, that when he is hungry, cold, uncomfortable, lonesome, someone will always be near to relieve these conditions.

The fretful, crying child, the older child who is a chronic whiner; these are children who have no such assurance. They feel they must keep their eyes glued to the parents and their hands attached to her, or she will leave them to suffer alone. There is nothing in their experience which has given them any faith in a better deal. It all depends upon them.

There is another aspect to this prolonged crying which is being emphasized today and that is the oxygen hunger, with possible detriment to the brain, which can result when a child is allowed to scream himself into exhaustion.

If mothers pooh-pooh the psychological aspects of frustration and insecurity maybe they will be respectful of the probable mental damage to a child who is allowed to cry too long.

Our leaflet No. 5, "The First Six Weeks," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Fall Fashions Feature The New 'Diplomatic Look'

NEW YORK (AP)—The "diplomatic look" as Maurice Rantner's contribution to fall fashions for 1949.

Showing his collection to the visiting fashion press, Rantner points out that diplomacy is being business in our modern troubled world, and proceeds to provide American women with clothes to suit the situation.

Highlights of his collection are: the "diplomatic pouch," an outsize pouch pocket on one hip of suit jackets; the "courier coat," short, full and belted; the "sacco," a straight short jacket which Rantner says has the elegant ease of a sack coat worn by a first secretary of a legation; the "attache jacket," in brilliant satin damask, to dress up a little black dress.

The tailored suit, favorite costume of American women, emerges under the skilled hands of Philip Mangone this season in handsome new fabrics, unusual dark neutral colors, with skirts slim and jackets long enough to cove the hips. He uses velvet collars on many suits and coats, combines fabrics and colors on suits, fur sleeves on coats.

Costly furs are used as linings for a number of his toppers, each as a short beige coat lined in nutria and a greatcoat lined in caracul.

Herbert Sondheim introduces the "one-man top" in a copper moire cocktail dress with long sleeves and a demure neckline which flips back to reveal a lot more chest, at the whim of the wearer.

He uses wool lace for the bodice of a taupe jersey cocktail dress, puts double rows of tassels down the sides of a black-ribbed wool-and-rayon fabric which he calls "ottomette."

Potato salads will have unusually good flavor if you dice the potatoes while they're hot, then sprinkle generously with salt and pepper and marinate in French dressing. After they have cooled combine with wedges of green olives, sliced celery, thinly sliced green onion, sliced hard-cooked eggs and mayonnaise.

The town of Vichy, France, owes its importance to its mineral waters, which were well known in time of the Romans.

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix: Why does a mother sacrifice her daughters to a son who is a black sheep? My mother is an intelligent woman, but she has made my sister and myself work to support our lazy drunkard of a brother. Why are mothers like that?

A GOAT.

Answer: Because they are mothers. Perhaps it is pity. Perhaps it is shame. Perhaps it is a mother's recognition that she is to blame, to a certain extent, for the sins of the prodigal son, but always he is the one for whom the fatted calf is killed and to whom the good ones in the family are sacrificed. It is always the black sheep that is mother's pet lamb.

LAKE COWICHAN GETS LOG ARCH—Jim Allan, president and members of the Chamber of Commerce here erected this red cedar log arch at the entrance to the village. The arch was made and donated by Hillcrest Lumber Co. Ltd. of Mesachie Lake. Chamber of Commerce members plan to erect direction signs on the Island Highway and Lake Cowichan Road.

Hot Weather Brings Fire Restrictions

Because of highly hazardous weather that has made the countryside tinder dry, fire department chiefs of Greater Victoria have put restrictions on fires.

In the city, all permits for fire have been canceled. In Oak Bay, permits are being issued only for beach fires below the high-water mark.

In Saanich, plagued by many runs for bush and grass fires during the last 40 days, Chief Joseph Law reports that the only burning permitted is in an approved container which has been inspected by the department. Violators are subject to court action.

Chief Gilbert Stancombe of Esquimalt reported that his department is not granting fire permits and pointed out that beach fires are never allowed as they endanger homes.

The DOCTOR Says:

IMPROPER COOKING OF PORK MAY RESULT IN TRICHINOSIS

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A tiny animal parasite which is called trichinella spiralis is the cause of a rather common disease known as trichinosis. Infection comes most often from eating improperly cooked pork or pork products. Cooking destroys these tiny animal parasites but infected meat which has not been entirely heated through frequently contains live trichinellae.

A recent outbreak reported from Iowa is typical. Members of a Ladies' Aid Group gathered together for their regular bimonthly meeting, at which sandwiches were served, made from mixed ham, hard-boiled eggs and mayonnise. The butcher shop had prepared the meat by grinding up a large sausage which was said to be "a cheap type of sandwich meat which sells rapidly."

SYMPTOMS DEVELOPED

The meat was eaten on Dec. 15, 1948. The first active signs began to appear just before the Christmas holidays. Patients complained of cramps in the abdomen, diarrhoea, nausea, and chills and fever.

Later, pains in the muscles set in with stiffness of the neck, puffiness under the eyes, and swelling of the glands of the neck. The reason for the muscular symptoms is that these tiny animal parasites actually enter and irritate the muscles.

This kind of outbreak of trichinosis is all too common. Certainly the best safeguard against this disease other than attacking it in hogs and careful inspection of meat (which of course are the responsibility of hog raisers and sanitary inspectors respectively) is thorough cooking of all pork products.

Question: What can be done to halt the growth of my 11-year-old girl who is five feet seven inches tall?

Answer: Unfortunately there is no satisfactory method for slowing down growth of this kind. The greater part of a girl's growth, however, is over at the age of 12 or 13, and it is comparatively slow after that time.

Execution Today At Walla Walla

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Jake Bird died on the gallows of the Washington state penitentiary here at 1.30 a.m. today. He was hanged for the axe murder of Mrs. Bertha Kludt Oct. 30, 1947, in Tacoma.

Rev. Arvid Ahrnell, who had been Bird's spiritual adviser during his final days, read a note written by the condemned slayer in which he said he bore no malice toward anyone and sought forgiveness.

The U.S. Supreme Court, which twice before had refused to review Bird's case, declined Thursday for the third time to do so. Aside from an act of executive clemency on the part of Governor Arthur B. Langlie, this had been the last hope for the dusky transient, who since his conviction had confessed knowledge of or participation in 44 murders throughout the country.

To Discuss Civil Aviation Agreement

OTTAWA (BUP) — Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier will leave for London Sunday to head a delegation for talks with Britain on the civil aviation agreement between Canada and the United Kingdom.

The conference will discuss existing agreements between the two countries and will include matters relating to trans-oceanic services in both the Atlantic and Pacific, the announcement said.

Chevrier will be accompanied by John R. Baldwin, chairman of the Air Transport Board, A. S. Macdonald, legal adviser to the board, and a representative of the external affairs department.

Average Prairie Earnings Estimated

OTTAWA (CP) — Ninety per cent of prairie families consist of good, honest husband-and-wife combinations with or without children, the Bureau of Statistics said Thursday.

Only about three-tenths of one per cent were divorced and only about one-fifth of one per cent of family units were headed by single persons, common - law couples or single guardians.

The bureau, publishing the results of a survey of families in the three prairie provinces in June, 1946, also reported that the average annual earnings of families living on wages or salaries then was $1,873.

But this covered only 219,426 of the 552,649 families because the others didn't depend on wages or salaries, being largely farm groups.

The bureau said the average earnings of families with female heads was $998.

Some 7 per cent of families were headed by widows and 3 per cent had the husband and wife split up for domestic or economic reasons.

Of 55,886 "broken" families — that is widowed, divorced or split up—nearly 76 per cent were under female guidance.

Bridge

By Wm. E. McKenney
America's Card Authority

THIS HAND IS GOOD FOR A SMALL SLAM

When I was the executiive head of organized bridge, my main interest in a bridge player was in finding out how many master points he had. Now, as I kibitz from table to table in search of material for this column, I take time out to look up some of the people who play cards.

I recently met Dolph Traymon, a concert pianist, at Caro's Restaurant at Manhasset, L. I.

Dolph's trio at Caro's spend their rest periods playing cards, but since there are only three of them, they usually play gin rummy or pinochle. However, they also play a fast and furious three-handed auction bridge game. Whoever buys the contract gets the dummy, which is face down during the bidding. I remember playing this game years ago, and generally our first bid was two no trump. But when today's hand came up, one of the boys in the trio, sitting South, opened the bidding with four spades.

North: ♠ K 7 6 ♥ A J 10 ♦ A K 8 2 ♣ J 9 8
West: ♠ Q J 4 ♥ K Q 7 4 3 ♦ 9 6 4 3 ♣ 4
East: ♠ 8 ♥ 9 8 5 2 ♦ J 7 5 ♣ Q 10 6 5 3
South: ♠ A 10 9 5 3 2 ♥ 6 ♦ Q 10 ♣ A K 7 2
Dealer: South

South	West	North	East
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening—♥ K

The king of hearts was opened and won in dummy with the ace. The ace and king of spades were cashed, and West won the third spade. He returned a diamond. Now, even though you can count 12 tricks, declarer made only 11.

If declarer had cashed all of his spades and the ace and king of clubs, West would have been squeezed. He could not hold the queen of hearts and all the diamonds, and declarer could have made a small slam.

Top Stars Head Cast Of Western Film

Four top Paramount stars, not one of whom has ever before appeared in a western film, head the cast of that studio's brilliant, outdoor adventure, "Streets of Laredo," which arrived today at the Capitol Theatre. They are William Holden, William Bendix, Macdonald Carey and Mona Freeman, the latter making her debut as a fully adult star.

"Streets of Laredo" tells the story of three friends, outlaws in the great southwest, knowing no law but that of loyalty to each other. Circumstances separate them, two of them becoming Texas Rangers, the third more recklessly lawless than ever before.

ODEON THEATRE

Hollywood actress Shelley Winters gets her first star billing in Universal-International's "Larceny," now showing at the Odeon Theatre.

Reason for the upping from featured billing to stardom was made by producer Leonard Goldstein and director George Sherman because of Miss Winters' electric performance in the current film and recent reaction to the actress' role in Ronald Colman's Academy Award winning success, "A Double Life."

OAK BAY THEATRE

A brilliant new concerto by Leith Stevens for piano and orchestra keynotes the unusual plot of "Night Song," new John Cromwell production for RKO Radio, co-starring Dana Andrews, Merle Oberon and Ethel Barrymore, and now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

Clark Gable Wears Fauntleroy Costume In New Picture

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ah, there's good news tonight for the garter makers. Clark Gable is going to give them a boost.

A studio drum-beater breathlessly announced the news: King Gable was working in a Little Lord Fauntleroy costume. So I hastened to the "Key to the City" set to view the historic event.

Sure enough, there was the king in his costume-ball, get-up, looking sheepish as a boy who had to play an elf in a high school version of "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Lace collar, velvet knee-pants and all. But what interested me most were the garters on his exposed calves.

MOVIES' INFLUENCE

Movie historians are fond of recalling a famous instance of filmdom's influence. It happened in the "Walls of Jericho" sequence of "It Happened One Night." Gable started to doff his shirt and—horrors!—revealed his bare chest. Undershirt makers were said to have taken a severe beating because of this one scene.

I now predict a sharp upswing in garter stock—provided the scene on Clark's curvy calves is not cut or reshot.

The abashed actor confessed in his dressing room: "As you get older, you'll do anything for an honest buck."

TRACY'S RESTRAINT

The thing for me to do, of course, was to get Spencer Tracy to see Fauntleroy Gable. I expected an explosion when the two met, but nothing happened. They just discussed the script.

Tracy's restraint may have been due to the fact that he himself was playing a comedy crying scene in "Adam's Rib." He spent the afternoon over a cut onion, trying to induce tears.

WRESTLING ROMEO

Memo: Don't try to kid with Gorgeous George.

The marcelled wrestler is playing himself in "Pardon My Toehold." He gave me a glassy stare when I asked if wrestling was good training for acting.

"I don't understand you," he answered icily. "I have added showmanship to wrestling, but once a match starts it is a real fight."

The garish grappler was introduced as George Wagner, but quickly corrected: "It's Gorgeous George; the name was legalized in 1942."

ROYAL THEATRE

Taking a leaf from the book of ball game program hawkers, director Elliott Nugent introduced a new process of identification for a scene in "Mr. Belvedere Goes to College," the new 20th Century-Fox comedy which stars Clifton Webb and Shirley Temple at the Royal Theatre.

Working with some 30 girls who enact the roles of co-eds in a sorority, Nugent avoided confusion during the rehearsal by hanging cards around the girls' necks.

PLAZA—Paul Muni and Marguerite Chapman in "Counter-Attack."
RIO—On the stage, "Follies Bergere Revue."

Opens At Dominion

Smuggling is one of the oldest practices in the annals of crime, but something novel and intriguing has been added in Roy Rogers' newest Republic picture, "The Far Frontier." Photographed in spectacular Trucolor, the film started today at the Dominion.

Taking its cue from the newspaper headlines, the film is the first to hit the nation's screens with an amazing exposure of the methods of the gangs whose nefarious trade is "wetback smuggling"—the smuggling into this country of crooks hidden in oil drums.

ATLAS THEATRE

Intriguing characters enact the story in Walt Disney's new dramatic "So Dear to My Heart," in color by Technicolor, with animated cartoon sequences. Seen are: Bobby Driscoll as the boy hero; Burl Ives as a singing blacksmith; Beulah Bondi as the boy's stern but lovable grandmother; Harry Carey as a shrewd livestock judge, and Luana Patten.

Motorists Subject To Fines If They Hog Meter Spaces

Motorists who think that, just because they keep depositing pennies and nickels in parking meters, they can keep those parking spots for as long as they want, are under a misapprehension.

Parking time limit still is one hour in the meter zone and motorists who keep feeding the machines and do not move them are leaving themselves open for parking tickets.

Inspector John Howe of the city police uniformed branch reported today that many motorists are not aware of this. He meets many who complain and explains things to them. This regulation, he said, was to stop motorists from "hogging" parking space.

PLAZA THEATRE

Paul Muni, starred in Columbia Pictures' thrilling story of Russian paratroopers, "Counter-Attack," with Marguerite Chapman and Larry Parks, had its first local showing today at the Plaza Theatre. Based on the Broadway success of the same name by Janet and Philip Stevenson who in turn adapted it from the Russian play, "Pobyeda," the screen play of "Counter-Attack" was written by John Howard Lawson.

Regina Riders Bolster With Eastern Gridders

REGINA (CP)—There'll be a pronounced eastern tinge to the Regina Roughriders, come next fall.

The Roughriders already have lured four members of their eastern namesakes the Ottawa Roughriders, who last year bowed out in the Grey Cup final to the Calgary Stampeders.

Another Ottawan also is to be on his way.

Added to this impressive contingent, which also includes a former Hamilton star, will be the usual allotment of five U.S. imports.

Missing from this lear's line-up will be Gabe Patterson, chunky negro halfback, and Johnny Cook, starting quarterback of last year's squad. Both were U.S. imports.

To plug these gaps, Roughriders are counting heavily on two more imports, quarter Doug Belden, lately of the Florida 'Gators, and fullback Sammy Pierce, former Baylor fullback. A third newcomer from south of the border will be Doug Brightwell, 20-year-old Texas Christian centre.

Other imports returning are Darrel Wardlen, hard-driving plunger of last year's team, and tough Mike Cassidy, a middle.

From Ottawa the Regina club has signed end Matt Anthony, centre Buck Rogers, lineman Jim McFaul, and halfback George McPhail, former Ottawa high school flash. Club officials report another Ottawa backfielder on his way to join the club.

Pat Santucci, former Hamilton lineman was signed earlier this year. He will handle Rider's placement kicking chores.

Coach Fred Grant is counting on the newcomers to give the team extra reserve strength, the club's one glaring weakness last year.

Back as certain starters alongside the imports will be most of last year's homebrews, including scatback Kenny Charlton, end Johnny Bell and lineman Wayne Pyne.

Planes Drop Supplies Inside Arctic Circle

EDMONTON (CP)—Members of Edmonton's 435 Transport Squadron of the R.C.A.F. made the first parachute supply drop of the year to Cambridge Bay Post, 160 miles inside the Arctic Circle.

An air force spokesman said today a Dakota aircraft dropped 4,000 pounds of food and mail to the tiny outpost Wednesday after a flight from Edmonton. The plane left Edmonton Tuesday, touched down at another post, Sawmill Bay, N.W.T., then went on to Cambridge Bay.

The supply drop is made yearly between summer and winter seasons when planes are unable to land.

Russians Search German Vehicles, Take West Marks

BERLIN (UP)—The Russians established two new checkpoints 20 miles inside each end of the Helmstedt-Berlin superhighway today and flagged down all vehicles, Allied and German alike.

At Michendorf, 20 miles west of Berlin, 10 Soviet zone German police searched all German vehicles and forced the occupants to surrender all West German marks. Allied drivers merely were called upon to show their identity papers.

Only Berlin-bound vehicles were being stopped at the new check point at the other end of the superhighway. Three east zone police there searched to see whether unauthorized persons were riding in the cars.

It marked the first time that Allied vehicles have been required to stop between frontier check points.

The new restrictions were clamped on the superhighway across the Soviet zone only 24 hours after the Soviets had ended their five-day slowdown of west German truck traffic to Berlin on the same road.

Reds To Celebrate

ROME (Reuter)—Two million Communists all over Italy will celebrate Sunday "Communist Party Day" in thanksgiving for the recovery of their leader Palmiro Togliatti, who was shot and wounded on the steps of Parliament one year ago. Mass demonstrations will be held in the main towns.

Along the Waterfront

Water Warmer But Few Tuna Being Caught By B.C. Boats

Half a dozen B.C. fishing boats now are 70 to 80 miles off the Columbia River in search of tuna—and are having a sprinkling of luck, Capt. Llewellyn Sheppard, master of the fisheries patrol vessel Laurier, said here today.

The 120-foot Laurier returned to this port Thursday after a trip in search of tuna off the west coast of Vancouver Island.

"We found water which had a temperature of 59½ degress 105 miles southwest of Estevan Point on July 11—two days after we left Victoria—and although we had tuna lines out, we never caught any during the entire voyage," Capt. Sheppard said.

NO RUN YET

The B.C. boats, which were in radio contact with the Laurier, said they have caught a few tuna, but that there is nothing which could be termed a run as yet. Tuna are found in water over 55 degrees in temperature.

One of the boats caught 20 tuna one day earlier this week.

The Laurier sailed through waters which were generally a little warmer than have been encountered in previous trips this year, as evidenced in her report showing numerous fog patches. Her course took her 100 miles southwest of Cape Beale, then north to a point 70 miles off Cape Cook, then to within 30 miles of shore and off again to 80 miles from Cape Cook.

Meanwhile, the Laurier's sistership, the Howay, commanded by Capt. Walter Redford, is proceeding southward off the Queen Charlotte Islands. She also is on a tuna patrol.

The Canadian fishboats off the Columbia River are: The Black Dog, owned by William G. Tellier of Victoria; the Dora-bel II, owned by L. J. Comeu, Sooke; Rosalie II, Norman Ryle, Vancouver; Solar, also of Vancouver, B.C.; Troller, Jack Ryle, Vancouver, and the Burlo Isle, owned by E. J. Morgan, Bamfield.

YEAR AGO TODAY

It was just one year ago today that the first tuna were brought into Victoria, though first reports of catches off the Canadian coast were received July 8.

The Kyuquot Trollers' packer Cooperator IV brought in six tuna, totaling 89 pounds on July 15 last year. They had been landed from a fishboat upcoast a day or two before.

First fishboat to unload a tuna catch here last season was the Shaula, which brought in 159 of the "chicken of the sea" on July 17. The catch weighed 666 pounds.

Price to be paid fishermen for tuna this year has not been set, Gordon Barrie, fisheries department representative here, said today. He was aboard the Laurier on her last trip.

He added that the price paid last season was 30 cents a pound. Average weight of the tuna is 12 to 15 pounds. Largest and smallest caught in 1948 by Canadian boats were 29 and 11 pounds, respectively.

Canada Turns More To U.S. As Source Of Immigration

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada probably will turn more and more to the United States as a source of immigrants during the next few years because of barriers raised against emigration from many countries in Europe, a resources department official said today.

The government has not yet taken any steps for an "exceptional" program aimed at encouraging U.S. citizens to come to this sparsely-populated country, but the immigration department is examining all possible sources of new citizens.

An indication the field is narrowing is seen in the fact that immigrants from abroad this year will number 100,000, compared with 125,000 in 1948.

Several factors are discouraging the movement of United Kingdom citizens to Canada. For one thing, they can take only a small amount of money—$1,500 spread over four years—out of the country.

Since the war many of Canada's new citizens have come from countries behind the Iron Curtain, and from France, Belgium, Holland and Scandanavia. All these countries except Holland now are discouraging emigration.

The displaced persons groups, which supplied many immigrants from various parts of Europe, have fairly well been reduced to persons who cannot meet Canada's immigration standards. Besides, the D.P.'s are admitted only when there are employers ready to guarantee them employment for one year.

Airborne Exercises In Whitehorse Area

WAINWRIGHT MILITARY CAMP, Alta, (CP)—The Canadian army will stage a full-scale airborne invasion exercise under winter conditions in the Whitehorse, N.W.T., area next February, Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, Chief of the Canadian General Staff, said in an interview here Thursday night.

It will be the second largest training scheme of its kind in Canada. The first, "Operation Eagle," will be held Aug. 4 to 7 in the Grande Prairie, Alta., district.

Plans for the winter airborne drop are in a state of preparation, Gen. Foulkes said, and more complete details will depend on results achieved at Grande Prairie. He did not say what units would participate, but it is expected it will include the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

The Chief of General Staff, accompanied by Maj.-Gen. M. H. S. Penhale, General Officer Commanding, Western Command, made a special flying visit here yesterday. They witnessed a mock army battle which demonstrated combined effectiveness of tanks, infantry and fire power in an attack on an enemy hill position.

Plan Health Survey

OTTAWA (CP)—A survey of Newfoundland's health services and future needs will be made with money from the 10th province's first health grant.

The health and welfare department today announced the survey will be undertaken under the direction of Dr. Leonard Miller, director of medical services for Newfoundland, and assisted by specialists from the federal department.

Steinhardt In Calgary

CALGARY (CP)—Laurence A. Steinhardt, U.S. ambassador to Canada, who with his family arrived in Calgary today for a two-day visit, addressed the Men's and Women's Canadian Clubs. The ambassador will present the Stampede prizes Saturday evening.

One-Course Meals For Shanghai Mayor

SHANGHAI (UP) — Austerity has come to luxury-loving Shanghai.

To boost production and eliminate waste and extravagance, the Communists, through official guidance and the press, are inspiring residents of the premier city of the Orient to tighten their belts.

Gen. Chen yi, acting mayor and head of the military control commission, is setting the pace. He reportedly is eating "third grade" meals consisting of only one dish.

Leaders in other government, commercial and industrial organizations are following his example.

Electric power, fuel and utility services have been cut. Many firms have limited the use of electric fans, elevators and air conditioning units.

British, U.S. Units Train In Tokyo Bay

TOKYO (AP) — The British fleet and U.S. Fifth Air Force units began joint training exercises in Tokyo Bay area Thursday. The manoeuvres, similar to those conducted last summer, will continue through Saturday.

The Americans are providing air coverage with B26 medium attack bombers, F51 Mustang fighters and F80 jet-propelled Shooting Stars.

B26's escorted by F51's will subject the British cruiser Jamaica and destroyer Hart to mock level bombing attacks. Some Mustangs and Shooting Stars will act as interceptors for the surface vessels.

Say Cyclist Used Windshield To Steer

John W. Casson, Prince Robert House, a motor-cyclist, was fined $30 by Magistrate H. C. Hall this afternoon in Saanich police court. He was found guilty on a charge of careless driving. Constables Robert Coleman and George Burnett told the court accused was steering his bike by the windshield and traveling at 40 miles an hour on Gorge Road July 8.

Accused claimed he did not exceed 30, that he was afraid to do this as he was testing a new motor on the bike. As for steering by the windshield, accused said he was holding onto the two bars attached to the handbars to hold the windscreen.

Harold Winch Going On Tour Of Europe

VANCOUVER (CP) — Harold Winch, provincial leader of the C.C.F., will leave Vancouver International Airport Saturday for a 10-week tour of Europe and his first vacation in 10 years.

Crossing Canada, the C.C.F. leader will spend one day with E. S. Joliffe, party leader in Ontario, and two days in conference with national officers in Ottawa. His European tour will include Great Britain, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France, Germany, Switzerland and Sweden.

Apply For Higher Telephone Rates

MONTREAL (BUP)—The Bell Telephone Company planned today to ask the government for permission to boost rates for telephone service for the first time since 1927.

Frederick Johnson, Bell president, said in a message to shareholders an increase was necessary and that demands for it were prompted by sharp increases in operational costs.

"We confidently expect to be allowed just and reasonable rates for the future," he said.

Buccola Arrives For His Night

"King for a night" Vic Buccola steps down from his Jubilee hack in front of home plate to receive a thunderous welcome from the 5,200 baseball fans at Athletic Park last night as caretaker "Slim" Hunt does the honors. Vic's guard of honor (partially visible) were some of his teammates.

Apparently well pleased with the proceedings, Buccola smiles as Johnny Johnson, A's president, makes one of numerous presentations of gifts as popular first baseman was honored. Vic received a gold engraved wrist watch from the directors of the ball club and other gifts from his fellow players, individual business firms and fans.

Day's Second Home Run Wins For A's

Catcher Steals Spotlight On Buccola Night; Blankenship Victor

There was a grand bit of scene-stealing at Athletic Park last night. Over 5,200 enthusiastic fans were on hand to pay tribute to first baseman Vic Buccola, but it was catcher Bob Day who grabbed the spotlight by clouting his second home run of the evening in the 10th inning to give the Athletics a thrill-packed 12 to 10 victory over Vancouver Capilanos.

For the overflow crowd that circuit blow was worth the price of admission, as it beat Vancouver, and that is always perfect with local fans. The turnout to honor Buccola was the largest attendance of the season. Last night's win pulled the A's even with the Capilanos in their week-long series, each club having two wins. Tonight, southpaw Jim Propst, who shut out Vancouver Monday night on the mainland, will seek to make it two straight.

Last night's game had everything. In addition to Day's pair of home runs, Frank Match and Gil McDougald hit for the circuit for the A's, with K. Chorlton, Charlie Mead and Len Tran providing homers for Vancouver.

BRENNER BANISHED

Eighth inning produced a wild argument on the part of the Vancouver club over a close decision on a force play at third base and resulted in Manager Bill Brenner and pitcher Bob Costello getting the old heave-ho from base umpire Max Skulik.

Fireman Joe Blankenship, who was called in to take over from the tiring Pete Vucurevich in the seventh inning during a five-run Vancouver rally, had his troubles putting out the fire but hung on to grab the decision. Southpaw Carl Gunnarson, third Vancouver hurler to see action, was charged with the loss. Hunk Anderson started, went out under bombardment in the fourth in favor of Jim Hedgecock, who in turn was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh.

BOB DAY
. . . he was hero.

After Balassi's triple, a single by Matoh in the first inning and the latter's home run in the third had given the A's a 2 to 0 lead, they exploded for six runs in the fourth. An error by shortstop Ray Tran was directly responsible for four of the tallies.

TIE SCORE

K. Chorlton's two-run homer gave the Caps their first tallies in the top of the sixth. The roof fell in on Vucurevich in the seventh as Vancouver pushed over five runs. They added two more off Blankenship in the eighth. In the ninth, second baseman Len Tran hit one of Joe's offerings out of the park to tie the score.

Johnny Hack opened the 10th for the A's with a single, and Day brought the crowd to its feet when he lofted the ball over the centre-field wall.

Spokane Indians salvaged one win out of their three-game series with league - leading Yakima when Lyle Palmer and Skip Rowland singled behind a walk and a hit batsman in the 10th. The score was 11 to 9. Jack Parks slugged a two-run homer in the Spokane third and touched off a four-run lunge in the seventh with a three-bagger. A crowd of 2,275 brought the Bears' home attendance to date to 75,305, against 73,600 for the whole 1948 season.

ANOTHER CLOSE ONE

Wenatchee Chiefs beat back Salem's challenge to their fourth-place holdings by squeezing out a 5 to 4 win in a tightly played contest at Salem.

Though rapped for a dozen hits, John Marshall managed to rack up his 18th win of the year as the Bremerton Bluejackets scored an 11 to 3 triumph over the eighth-place Tigers at Tacoma.

Salveson Clouts Grand Slam Homer To Win Own Game

Pitcher Jack Salveson of Hollywood Stars has a sure-fire formula for winnig his own ball game.

The formula—slam a homer with the bases loaded. Salveson did just that Thursday night in the 10th at Sacramento as the Stars walloped the Solons 9 to 5. It ended an eight-game winning streak for the sizzling Solons.

In other Thursday night Coast League play, Portland's busy Beavers beat the hapless Los Angeles Angels 4 to 2, San Diego outslugged Oakland 13 to 11 and San Francisco beat Seattle 4 to 1.

White said he and his family have always wanted to live here.

About his future plans, he said: "I want to stay in baseball . . . but I don't have a thing in mind."

Night Becomes Day

By W. W.-P. S.

Vic Buccola night became Day at Athletic Park last night. The husky catcher stole the show with his two home runs.

Don't know what manager Bill Brenner said to umpire Max Skulik during the seventh-inning rhubarb at third base when the Cap runner was called out. It appeared Brenner was slightly warmer than the weather.

"What did Buccola get," someone asked in the office this A.M. "One for six" was the early morning answer of a not yet wide awake office wag.

TWO GREAT PLAYS

Best play of the game was shortstop Ray Tran's catch of Len Noren's foul fly in the ninth. Or was it Russ Walseth's grab of Ray Tran's ground smash through the box in the Capilano ninth?

Gil McDougald's 8½-month-old baby daughter was at the game. She had her bottle early, went to sleep but woke up when 'papa' Gil hit one out of the lot in the sixth.

Hunk Anderson, the Capilano starter, had a 5 and 0 record going into the game. He still has it—unblemished but slightly tarnished.

It was a big night also for the concession managers. The program kids sold out their entire 1,500 scorecards while Bob Whyte ran out of hot dogs early in the evening.

An interested spectator at the game was Mickey Shader, Pacific coast scout for the New York Giants. When Vancouver tied the score in the ninth Shader thought it was all over for the home club. He doesn't know our Athletics when it comes to overtime affairs in their own backyard.

There are no more superstitious individuals than the boys in the press box at a ball game. C. F. Moriarty, Canadian Press, was jumped on and blamed for the three-hour affair after walking into the booth at the start and remarking: "How about an early box score tonight boys?"

Ignored Heintzelman Shuts Out Cardinals

Boston's Billy Southworth couldn't see Ken Heintzelman when he selected his National League all-star pitchers. He has nothing on the batters. They can't see him either.

The 33-year-old southpaw, making a contender of the once-feeble Philadelphia Phillies, is pitching the best ball in the National League. He is tied for most victories with 11. He has lost only three.

Heintzelman last night pitched the fourth-place Phils to a 1 to 0 victory over Max Lanier and the Cardinals. The lone run game on Del Ennis' 13th home run with one out in the last half of the ninth. The victory advanced the Phils to within one game of the Braves, who were beaten by the Cubs, 3 to 2.

Heintzelman scattered eight hits in extending his latest winning streak to seven. Lanier gave up only five in absorbing his first defeat since his reinstatement.

The defeat dropped the Redbirds a game and a half behind the Dodgers, who nosed out the Cincinnati Reds 6 to 5 in a 10 inning struggle.

YANKS HOLD LEAD

New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox won their games as the Yankees retained their American League lead of 5½ games over the Indians.

Allie Reynolds went the route for the second straight time and shut out St. Louis Browns, 5 to 0. He allowed three hits. Joe DiMaggio and Gene Woodling drove in two runs apiece. It was Reynolds' 10th win against one defeat. Carl Drews was the loser.

Bob Lemon won his 10th game for the Indians and rookie shortstop Ray Boone drove in three runs with a home run and a long fly as the Tribe won its ninth game in the last 10 starts with a 6 to 1 victory over Philadelphia Athletics. Rookie Alex Kellner was charged with his fifth defeat.

9th Straight Win

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—The Royal City's Adanacs of the Inter-City Lacrosse league moved within four victories last night of clinching their third successive championship.

The trick came about with their 18 to 12 decision over the youthful Salmonbellies. It was their ninth straight win.

Adanacs have seven games yet to play and need only four more wins to take it all. The Indians, closest contenders, must win all seven to tie the Royal City crew.

Ex-R.A.F. cricket line-up for tomorrow's match with Albions at Beacon Hill Park at 2.30 follows: Day Jagger, Collins, Denney, Neal, Boyes, Woodruff, Dover-Masters, Huggins, Wookey and Roper. Reserve is Scott.

Students Rally For Extra Inning Victory

Chinese Students won one the hard way at Central Park last night as they strengthened their hold on the fourth and final playoff position in the Men's Senior A Softball League.

It took the Students 10 innings to do the trick and they did it by spotting Timber Service two runs in the first half of the extra frame, then coming back in their half of the 10th to score three runs and steal the decision, 9 to 8.

Toy Mar was cast in the hero's role in the 10th as it was his single with the bases loaded that scored the winning run.

Jimmy John had punched home the runs that tied the game at 8 to 8 with a single with the sacks populated. Quinton Mar then walked to load the bases again and set the stage for Toy Mar's blow.

The game was a see-saw affair with Timbermen taking a one-run lead in the second inning on Jack Battie's four bagger. Two runs in the fourth put the loggers in a 3 to 0 margin.

Tom Derr hit a two-run homer for Students in the fifth. Starter Earl King of Timber Service was knocked from the hill in the sixth as Students knotted the count at 4 to 4 with another brace.

Continuing their assault on Ray Hough, who relieved King, Students broke through for another two tallies in the seventh to take a 6 to 4 lead. But Timber Service bounced back to again tie the score with Bernie Clarkson slamming out a two-run fourmaster.

Loggers notched their two 10th innings runs on a Student error and single by Battie and Hough.

Tonight at Central Park, Douglas Tire will be shooting for the 19th win of the season when they meet Bluebird Cabs at 6.45. Cabbies need a win to stay in the running for a playoff berth.

In the Women's Senior B League, Moose edged Eaglettes, 11 to 10, and league-leading Sidney tripped Toppers, 11 to 7.

Navy defeated Canadian Scottish, 12 to 10, in a Men's Senior C game.

Optimists were crowned juvenile boys' titlists as they whipped C.C.Y.M., 14 to 6, in the deciding game of a three-game series.

Short score of senior A game follows:

Timber Service	8	15	2
Chinese Students	9	8	3

16 Canadians In Second Stage Of Bisley Feature

BISLEY CAMP, Surrey, Eng. (CP)—Sixteen Canadians, 15 of them members of the Dominion's official 18-man team to the 80th Commonwealth rifle shoot, today move into the second stage of the King's Prize competition.

Three of them qualified Thursday in a shoot-off with 90 other competitors. They were Sgt. William Hall of Ottawa and Sgt. Godfrey Kay of Hamilton, Ont., each with 24s out of a possible 25, and Sgt. Earl Jamieson of Vancouver, an unofficial competitor, with 22.

The 16 other Canadian marksmen in the second stage towards the coveted trophy qualified Wednesday. Saturday, the last day of the two-week shoot, the final stage towards the King's Prize will be held.

In the grand aggregate event, Sgt. Frederick H. B. Wallace of Toronto finished in a tie for third place with other marksmen on the basis of unofficial results.

Two of the Canadian contingent—officer cadet Gilmour Boa of Toronto and Capt. George J. Gamble of Winnipeg—tied for sixth place on the basis of unofficial results in the all-comers' aggregate.

The unofficial results showed that Chief Petty Officer G. A. Clarke of the Royal Navy was the winner of the grand aggregate with a score of 564. Wallace scored 561. The winner of the event receives the Dominion of Canada challenge trophy.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass.—Doc Williams, 175, North Adams, knocked out Al Winn, 167, New York (3).

Czech Tennis Stars Will Go Into Exile

GSTAAD, Switzerland (AP)—Jaroslav Drobny and Vladimir Cernik, Czechoslovakia's top tennis stars, rejected today a Czech government order to return to Prague. They announced they were going into exile and hoped to reach the United States.

The two players had withdrawn from the Swiss international tennis tournament yesterday after the Czech government withdrew permission to play here because two Germans and a Spaniard were competing.

This morning they announced they would play out the remainder of the tournament.

In a statement issued on behalf of the two Czech players and in their presence by Ernst Scherz, head of the tournament organizing committee, the players said: "We wish to state that we are sportsmen completely devoted to tennis and in no way connected with politics. We therefore have decided to suspect Swiss hospitality and shall play to the end of the Swiss championship tournament at Gstaad. Nobody can prevent us from following our sporting ambitions, all less so because we have decided to go to the United Sttes."

Drobny and Cernik, who consistently have received permission of the Czech government to play in foreign tournaments presumably because of the favorable publicity their play had created, made it clear their decision had long been in their minds.

Mawhinney Blows Hot To Reach Semifinals

SEATTLE (AP)—Two young men with mashie mayhem in mind matched swings today with a pair of veterans in the Pacific Northwest Golf Associations tourney semifinals.

Bill Mawhinney, 19, the tall kid from Vancouver, who rubbed out Seattle's golf purist, Harry Givan, yesterday by 5 and 4, and then bumped off Harold Gjolme, Seattle, 4 and 3, drew ex-champ Ray Weston of Spokane for his 36-hole opponent today.

Young Bill was six under par for his 15 holes of play.

Young Ronny Clark of the Dalles, Ore., knocked over a couple of favorites yesterday.

The 20-year-old Oregonian disposed of three-time champion Jack Westland of Everett, in the morning on the 19th hole, and in the afternoon went 22 holes to bump the Californian veteran, Johnny Dawson, Los Angeles Walker Cupper, out of contention.

The double triumph sent Clark into today's semifinals against Bruce McCormick, another Los Angeles Walker Cupper.

Parker Scores Upset Win In City Tennis

All finalists will be named after tonight's play in the city lawn tennis championships at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. In Thursday's play the biggest upset of the week-long tourney came as eighth seeded Jack Parker marched into the final round at the expense of top favored Carl Brand. Parker was in amazing form to outlast the favored player in three sets. After dropping the first set at love, Brand found his game and tied the match. Parker, not to be denied, overcame a 4-2 deficit in the final canto to become the man to beat for this year's championship. Parker's final-round opposition will be determined tonight when Ron Mitchell tangles with Dave Williams.

Semifinals in the men's doubles tonight will see Bud Hocking and Thorkil Juelsberg face Williams and Peter Peacock. The latter pair blew hot last night to eliminate the present Victoria Club champions Bill Dunbar and Parker in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4. Top-seeded Jim McArthur and Carl Brand will meet Marsh Gordon and Rex Jackson to determine the other doubles finalists. The former duo were lucky to win their quarterfinal round from Bob Van Horne and John McPherson last night. Miss Morgan earlier in the day advanced to singles final with the loss of only one game to Marjorie Goodland.

Mixed doubles finalists will also be decided tonight when Dot Edwards and Carl Brand face Jean Morgan and Dave Williams while Anna Peden and Peter Peacock tackle the winner of Juelsberg and Patience Birley versus Marjorie Hoey and Ron Mitchell.

Haas Uncorks 66 For First Round Golf Leadership

PITTSBURGH (UP) — A pair of old jinxes came up for renewal today as the Dapper Dan open golf tournament moved into its second round.

For 33-year-old Freddie Haas Jr. of New Orleans it was a question of whether he can beat his habit of fading into futility after a fast start. And for Sammy Snead it was a question of whether he can beat his own putter.

Haas took the lead in the first round of the tournament yesterday with a six-under-par 66 on the rolling Alcoma Club course. But time and again during the past two seasons Haas has leaped off to a good start in a tournament, only to fail in the later rounds.

Snead lost the Reading, Pa., open by a putt last week, and yesterday he missed out equaling Haas by one putt. It was a four-footer which went awry on the last hole.

Sign Prairie Youth

REGINA (CP) — Brooklyn Dodgers announced last night they have signed 19-year-old Dick Berzowsky of Wakaw, Sask., to a Brooklyn contract.

Berzowsky was signed following a three-day session here of the Dodgers' baseball school, attended by 300 young baseballers from many parts of the province.

Berzowsky, a right-handed pitcher, will report to the Dodgers' training camp in San Bernardino, Calif., in the spring.

Foul Bay Scores Soft Victory Over Jokers

It was a good thing the weather was warm last night otherwise the Jokers lacrosse players might have frozen in their tracks.

They did a complete about face from their previous exhibitions this season and league-leading Foul Bay had an easy time of it; waltzing through for a 9 to 4 victory.

Roy Woolsey's charges played as though they were on the floor for the first game of the season. Passes went astray and shots on goals were wide, several of them ending up out of the box.

The style of play put up by Foul Bay was away below par and the game developed into a series of individual rushes by players on both teams. Possibly the warning issued by league directors to curb rough play had the players cautious, and as a result passes were hurried.

Jimmy McKeachie scored the only goal of the first period to put the winners in the lead which they held throughout.

Foul Bay fooled Joe Bryant on four more shots to take a 5 to 0 lead at the 10-minute mark of the second period. Gordy Ellis of Jokers finally got a clear shot on goal after he had gathered in a rebound of a shot that went wide of the nets, to bounce one past Thompson.

Larry Booth picked up a long pass from Tommy Joyce and blew one past the goalie to put the losers within striking distance of the Bays just before the half-time whistle.

WALKER HITS PAIR

Jackson Walker, the league's leading scorer scored twice in the third period, and Foul Bay moved ahead 7 to 2 before Booth marked up his second tally of the evening, Bays led 7 to 3 at the end of the third period.

Ellis scooped up a loose ball behind the nets, came around in front and added another goal to the Joker cause, but from here on in Coach Woolsey came in for some ribbing from the fans for some of the dubious line changes he made.

Jokers had a golden opportunity to close the Bays three-goal lead when Tommy Druce was sent off for boarding. He received a five-minute penalty for the infraction and while in the penalty box he was joined by Al Hudson, but still the Jokers couldn't put up a rally.

Hudson slipped out of the sin-bin and roared in unmolested on Bryant to score a goal, and Foul Bay were four goals up again.

SECOND GOAL

McKeachie scored the final goal of the evening on a shot from his off-side after snaring a sharp pass from Jack Thompson.

The Cougars and the Yellow Jackets of the Pewee Division played to a 4-all tie in a preliminary game. Bud Brice with two goals and Dennis Atkinson and Ed Bouch were the scorers for the Jackets, while Pat Phipps and Rod Wilson, each with two goals, were the marksmen for the Cougars.

Stars Get Berths With Stampeders

VANCOUVER (CP)—At least four berths on the Calgary Stampeders' squad for 1949 will be held down by Vancouver players.

Officials of the 1948 Grey Cup football winners soon will sign up for a second season Pete Thodos and Ed Pantages. They will be joined by Walt Chahley and Obery French, all of Vancouver.

Thodos, one of the stars of the Stampeders' win over Ottawa Roughriders last year, is planning to return to Calgary from Vancouver in two weeks' time.

He will probably hold down the first string left halfback spot, with Chahley filling in as reserve.

Chahley was outstanding with the Vancouver Blue Bombers, winners of two Canadian junior titles.

Cecil Branson Wins

VANCOUVER (CP) — Highly-touted Cecil Branson of Victoria's Lawn Tennis Club fell partially by the wayside yesterday in the B.C. junior tournament.

His nemises came in the under-16 division but he is expeteed to continue strongly in the under-18 and under-14 divisions.

In the former bracket, he eliminated McCulley 6-3, 3-6 and 6-4. In the under-14 group he scored double victories by trouncing Jefferson 6-0, 6-1 and Wood 6-8, 6-4 and 6-2.

Power Commission Growth Outlined In Annual Report

Substantial growths in the services and operations of the B.C. Power Commission are outlined in the fourth annual report of the commission submitted today to Premier Byron Johnson.

The report covers the year ended March 31 and shows that at the end of the commission's year 31,619 customers were being served, an increase of more than 3,300 during the year. On the day the 1949-50 fiscal year of the commission began the total services provided by the commission jumped to 33,319 through the acquisition of the Courtenay-Comox distribution system.

In less than four years the commission has brought electricity to more than 9,000 premises throughout the province which previously had no electrical services.

During the 1948-49 fiscal year the commission put into operation more than 1,500 kva in generating capacity and added 258 miles of new primary distribution circuits. The number of kilowatt hours of power generated by the commission was more than doubled, increasing from 54,301,630 to 129,464,276. This big increase was mainly effected through the operation of the John Hart Development at Campbell River.

The commission at the end of its fiscal year was distributing power in 19 power districts and supplying power wholesale to one municipality. In the 19 power districts the average monthly residential consumption increased from 84 to 96 kilowatt hours and the average charge to consumers decreased from 4.5 to 4 cents per kilowatt hour.

The commission's revenue jumped from $2,146,689 for the 1947-48 fiscal year to $2,550,263 for the 1948-49 fiscal year. Operating expenses in the 1947-48 fiscal year totaled $1,397,660, including $224,221 for interest on capital in operation. In the 1948-49 fiscal year operating expenses totaled $1,681,006, including $517,720 for interest on capital in operation.

The operating surplus, before provision for reserves, was $869,256 for 1948-49, compared with $749,028 for 1947-48.

During the 1947-48 fiscal year the commission placed $518,534 in its reserve accounts, leaving a net operating surplus, which was transferred to the stabilization reserve, of $230,494. Payments into reserve accounts during 1948-49 totaled $821,954, leaving a net operating surplus of 37,302, which went into the stabilization reserve.

The capital invested by the commission up to last March 31 totaled $20,979,981, and its investments in construction work in progress totaled $7,752,838. Its reserves at the end of the 1948-49 fiscal year totaled $1,085,751. Its sinking funds, paid the government, on the same date totaled $507,395, leaving its accumulated surplus at $679,980.

Foot Passengers Swelling Number Of City Visitors

People with cars are not the only ones coming to Victoria to spend their summer vacations.

While tourist promotion officials judge the results of their efforts by keeping a count of the tourist cars in the city, the fact remains that many tourists come here without transportation of their own.

And like the motoring travelers, the pedestrian visitors are on the increase.

Both the B.C. Coast Service and the Black Ball Line, whose boats carry nearly all visitors to and from this city, report the number of foot passengers being transported this year is up considerably over last year.

An official of the C.P.R. reports the "Princess" boats of the coast service carried nearly 12,000 more passengers during June of this year than they did during the same month of 1948.

George Paulin, Black Ball agent, reported passenger travel on his line was up 34 per cent this year.

Tourist cars showed an increase of 28 per cent for June. Customs men say the average visiting car carries three passengers.

Parks Program Given For Week

City parks officials today released a list of events scheduled at Beacon Hill and Central parks next week, and pointed out that a program of organ music scheduled for tonight at Beacon Hill will not be given until next Friday night.

The week's program starts Sunday with a concert by the Parks Band at Beacon Hill at 2.30 in the afternoon, followed by a Gideon church service in the evening at 7.30.

Next event will not be until Wednesday, when another B.C. E.R. band concert will be staged from the Cameron Memorial Pavilion at Beacon Hill.

Outdoor moving pictures will be shown by the Victoria Film Council on the next day, Thursday, after the sun has set.

The same evening there will be dancing on the green at Central Park. The organ recital will be given by Paul Michelin on the Friday at 8 in the evening. During the afternoon of the same day, special program will be given at all playgrounds, starting at 2.

Island Beavers Get New Home On Charlotte Islands

Eleven live beavers, whose colony was in the path of a road building project in the Campbell River and Courtenay country, were trapped and shipped this week to a new home on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Inspector George Stevenson of Victoria, Vancouver Island chief of the B.C. Game Department, said the protected animals were shipped to their new home in crates by air.

He said the transplanting was done rather than destroy the animals, noting that this also has been done where beavers have become numerous and are a danger to property of farmers.

The inspector, who was aided in the operation by Game Warden Rex Hayes and a University of B.C. biologist, said the new home areas are chosen before the transplanting is done.

Philatelists Meet

Members of the Vancouver Island Philatelic Society held their monthly meeting at the Empress Hotel Thursday evening.

Thomas Peddie of New Westminster gave a talk on the stamps and postal history of Ireland, illustrating his remarks with pages from his prize-winning collection of these issues.

Three Victoria Naval Men Awarded Croix de Guerre

Three Victorians are among 17 Canadians whom the French government has chosen to honor for distinguished service to the Allied cause in connection with the liberation of France during the Second World War.

They are Lt.-Cmdr. J. C. L. Annesley, Lieut. Donald Davis and CPO. R. A. Baker. Each will receive the Croix de Guerre avec Palme.

Lt.-Cmdr. Annesley joined the R.C.N. in 1935 as a cadet. He received his early training with the Royal Navy and served for a time aboard H.M.S. Exeter.

Returning to Canada, he served aboard the destroyer H.M.C.S. Saguenay until he was appointed executive officer of the destroyer H.M.C.S. Annapolis. He served later as executive officer aboard the destroyers H.M.C.S. St. Francis and H.M.C.S. Haida.

In June, 1945, he was appointed commanding officer of the frigate Cape Breton and later he commanded the minesweeper New Liskeard.

In September, 1946, he was appointed executive officer of the naval air station at Dartmouth. He served for a time as executive officer aboard H.M.C.S. Ontario and now is executive officer at H.M.C.S. Naden.

He is married and makes his home in this city.

LIEUT. DONALD DAVIS

Lieut. Donald Davis enlisted in the navy in December, 1940. He was commanding officer of the minesweeper H.M.C.S. Malpeque, which engaged in invasion minesweeping operations in Cherbourg Channel.

Prior to his enlistment, he was a prominent oarsman here. He went with the J.B.A.A. four-oared crew to the British Empire Games in Sydney, Australia, in 1938.

He now is employed as control manager of the B.C. Electric. Married, he lives at 3178 Yew Street.

Eagles' Drill Team To Perform Tonight

Members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles' Girls Drill Team will perform tonight from 7.45 to 8.30 on Yates Street, just east of Blanshard, prior to the official opening of Victoria's second annual Begonia Show, to be held in the show room of National Motors Ltd.

The show will be opened at 8.30 by Ald. Margaret Christie. On hand for the ceremony will be David Nicol, president of the Victoria Begonia Society, and J. F. K. English, president of the Camosun Gyro Club, which is sponsoring the exhibition of blooms.

Nearly 200 plants have been entered in the show, which is of a non-competitive nature. The public is invited to view the colorful display until 10 tonight and from 10 Saturday morning to 10 in the evening.

Proceeds of the show will be used by the Camosun Gyros for charity.

Local Improvement For Boulevard Work

City officials said today planting of boulevards at the two-year-old Topaz Heights housing project must be carried out under a local improvement by-law.

They were answering veterans living in the settlement who are saying unfinished boulevards outside their homes are a disgrace to the city.

One of the residents, James R. Norris, 3123 Rutledge Street, asked in a letter to the city that the boulevards be finished at once.

But the city says his letter was sent to the wrong party. It should have gone to Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, which took over the project from Victoria Housing Enterprises Ltd.

C.M.H.C. could ask for the boulevards to be finished under a local improvement plan and payment for the work could be made either by the corporation or the residents through rents they are paying the corporation.

Saanich Man, 69, Dies When Overcome By Car Gas Fumes

Following investigations this morning, Dr. E. C. Hart, coroner, said it was apparent that Axel Fagerberg, 69, of Miller Avenue, Saanich, was accidentally killed by gas fumes in the closed-in garage of his home Thursday night.

Mr. Fagerberg was found slumped over the wheel of his car at 10 and was pronounced dead when taken to Jubilee Hospital by Saanich police.

From his investigations Dr. Hart said it appeared that the man was overcome by fumes while fixing the carburettor of his car in the garage.

Popular Villain, Dan Duryea, Coming For Show Opening

Dan Duryea, one of Hollywood's most popular actors of the sneer-and-kick-their-teeth-in school, will visit Victoria July 27 with Anthony Curtis, for the world premiere of the picture "Johnny Stool-Pigeon," at the Odeon Theatre.

The two will appear in the theatre, sign autographs, meet the public and generally show they are not "bad guys" at heart.

The film is an action drama about breaking up of an international drug ring. It contains several Vancouver shots taken last March. Part of the story occurs on a train between Blaine and Vancouver and later along the waterfront.

Simultaneous premieres will be held in Vancouver, San Francisco and Houston, Texas, since all three cities figure in the story.

Howard Duff, Shelley Winters and Gar Moore complete the cast. Duryea has risen to screen stardom in recent years with his portrayals of "tough guys" and his famous sneer.

Operations Curbed Because Of Hazard Of Forest Fires

The B.C. Forest Service, announcing a restricted industrial closure on part of the Vancouver forest district, including the southern portion of Vancouver Island, warned today that a general closure on travel in the woods may be necessary in the Vancouver forest district if there is no improvement in the forest fire hazard within the next day or two.

Under the restricted industrial closure, which takes effect at midnight tonight, all logging, sawmilling and industrial operations are prohibited from 1 p.m. P.D.T. daily and all such industrial concerns operating open burners are required to maintain constant guard.

Roughly the only parts of the Vancouver forest district exempt from the order are the mainland coast north of Knight Inlet and that part of Vancouver Island north of the Nahmint River, Alberni Canal, on the west coast, and Suquash on the east coast. Anyone in doubt of the area covered by the closure can secure precise information from the nearest forest service officer.

In the northern interior, particularly in the vicinity of Quesnel and Prince George, the hazard condition is such the forest service advocated that all lumber operators work on an early shift.

At the same time the forest service requested the public throughout the province to refrain from all unnecessary travel in the woods until the present serious hazard abates.

Higher City License Bills Being Mailed

The mails Friday will bring increased trade license bills to approximately 2,700 men and women of many professions and trades making a living in the city.

City Council ruled recently that increases to trade licenses in the last six months of the year to bring an additional $50,000 revenue will stand despite protests from most of the people affected.

Today officials of the trades license branch at the City Hall were preparing the bills for mailing tonight.

There are approximately 3,700 persons in the city paying trades licenses. About three-quarters of them are affected by the increases. This means approximately 2,700 of them are paying an average increase in fees of about $18.

Actual increases, though, range from a few dollars to $500 in different classifications.

Biggest group affected are operators of rooming houses and apartments. There are between 1,300 and 1,400 in this classification. Their fees have been upped from 50 cents per room to $1.50.

Conciliation Officers Named In Disputes Involving 765 Men

The Labor Relations Board today announced appointment of conciliation officers to assist in negotiations between four groups of employees and their employers.

S. Williscroft, Vancouver, has been named for a dispute involving 40 employees represented by the Vancouver Photo-Engravers Union Local 54 (A.F.L.) and the four Vancouver and Victoria employers represented by the B.C. Photo-Engravers Association. The union objects to the continuance of the swing shift in the recently expired agreement and is asking for this provision to be deleted. The employers are the Colonist Printing and Publishing Co. Ltd. and the Times Printing and Publishing Co., both of Victoria, and Cleland Kent Engraving Co. Ltd. and Vancouver Engravers Ltd., both of Vancouver.

Mr. Williscroft has also been named for a dispute between the Pacific Lumber Inspection Bureau Inc. and 300 employees represented by the Lumber Inspectors Union, B.C. Division No. 1 (C.C.L.). The parties cannot agree on the union request for a 30-cent per hour across the board wage boost and provisions for statutory holidays, union security and pensions.

R. Forgie, Vancouver, has been appointed to assist in a dispute between the B.C. Motor Transportation Ltd. (Pacific Stage Lines) and 225 bus operators, ticket clerks and baggage clerks represented by the Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees Division 101. The union has asked an across the board wage boost of 35 cents per hour or its equivalent for all employees covered by the agreement and a five-day week for bus operators.

William Fraser, senior conciliation officer, Vancouver, has been named to assist representatives of the Burrard Dry Dock Co. Ltd. and Pacific Dry Dock Co. Ltd., both of North Vancouver, and 200 employees represented by the International Association of Machinists, Local 682 (A.F.L.). The union has asked a 25-cent an hour wage increase, payment for statutory holidays and annual vacations, along with double time for overtime.

Jam Boils Over; $25 Smoke Damage To Home

Sidney Review Sold To Lethbridge Man

F. C. E. Ford, who bought the Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands Review, in 1944, announced today the sale of the weekly paper to J. S. Rivers, former city editor of the Lethbridge Herald, for an undisclosed sum.

Mr. Ford will holiday in the interior for some weeks, after installation of new equipment at the Review. His future plans are indefinite at the moment.

"With the background and experience Mr. Rivers has, the Review will undoubtedly better its local coverage of both news and general service," said Mr. Ford today.

Progress Reported On Water Projects

Good progress is being made in the laying of larger water mains in various parts of the city, it was reported today by G. M. Irwin, city water commissioner.

He hinted that watering restrictions might be imposed next year if the weather man brings another hot summer.

But the work being carried out now was bringing more water and better pressure to a number of districts, and further improvements were planned.

The watering restrictions might be imposed, Mr. Irwin said, until a new feeder main is installed from the Goldstream watershed into the city. This is one of the early projects planned by the Greater Victoria Water Board.

Mr. Irwin was unable to say when the laying of an eight-inch main along Caledonia Avenue outside Royal Athletic Park between Quadra and Cook Streets will be finished but he thought it would not be long.

Work was proceeding satisfactorily too, on the laying of an eight-inch main along Richardson Street from Moss to St. Charles Street.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—The Dapper Dan Club, a "pernickety" organization that started from a line in Al Abrams' sports column, has turned over $128,670 to charity. All that money represented profits from various sports events.

The Dapper Dans stage a $16,500 open tournament, fights, professional and high school football games, even an open-air operatta. And not one of their promotions ever lost money.

The numerous and enthusiastic D.D.S. are sure of a profit before the event starts.

"We always give the spectators something for their money," Abrams explained.

"We don't have to slug people and make them take tickets; they like to buy them."

Abrams, founder of the outfit, wasn't judged dapper enough to become a member until he was elected president of it two years ago. No wonder he says the Dapper Dans are pernickety.

PUTTING IT BLUNTLY

Sammy Snead, who blew that crucial putt last week was pertrubed about the activities of amateur photographers at the Dapper Dan tournament here.... Pittsburgh baseball writers say Dino Restelli, the sensational Pirate rookie slugger, is troubled by the fact that they made him an overnight sensation. Doc Nardiello, who supervised Ray Robinson's training to bring him down to 147 pounds without damage, says the welter champion could build up to 154 and still be strong and fast. When Frank Lane, Chicago White Sox general manager, visited the Coast League recently, folks began wondering if he was shopping for new talent or a new manager.

Future Of Church Funds Uncertain In Czechoslovakia

PRAGUE (UP)—Swift counteraction against the Vatican's excommunication of Communists was expected today from the government, which controls a large part of the funds and subsidies of the Roman Catholic Church in this country.

No official reaction to the Vatican's move was forthcoming at once. Czechoslovakia's 9,000,000 Roman Catholics already were under heavy pressure to collaborate with the Communist government.

Among the main questions raised by the Vatican declaration were:

1. What will happen to the church funds which come in large part from the state?

2. Will the church be "nationalized" and forced to cut its ties with the Vatican?

3. What will the government do to Catholics who renounce party membership rather than be excommunicated?

4. What line will government propaganda now take against recalcitrant Catholics?

The government already had stripped the church of its lands and control of its parochial schools. Nearly all church financial transactions were subject to state control.

Pup Stops Traffic

VANCOUVER (CP)—Here in Vancouver a dog's life can be a dilly.

It all happened Thursday.

Out from the curb at the day's hottest point toddled a small, white pup. He tucked himself under a No. 3 streetcar idled momentarily by a traffic light. It was shady there.

The motorman got down on hands and knees coaxingly for 10 minutes before the youngster finally obliged by trotting out from between the front wheels. Traffic then resumed.

Water Pressure Falls In Seattle

SEATTLE (AP)—Parched mouths and lawns are drinking up Seattle's water supply. There's plenty left in the hills and reservoirs, but the pipes aren't big enough to handle what's needed.

Hundreds of persons in the higher areas of the city have telephoned to say their pressure way way low, W. Chester Morse, city water superintendent, reported today.

The city used a record 179,500,000 gallons Thursday, 12,000,000 above normal, he estimated. Each day an approximate 150,000,000 gallons flow into the reservoirs. The reservoirs were down 70,000,000 gallons from the "full" mark Thursday night.

The thermometer jumped to 84 Thursday, with a cooling breeze keeping it lower than had been expected in an early-forenoon forecast.

Canoeing Canadians Taking Train Home

NEW YORK (UP) — Eight Canadians who paddled a 19-foot canoe from Montreal to this city in 13 days said today they planned to go back home by train.

The group, including a salesman, garment worker, accountant, electrician, and public relations man, docked their Y.M.C.A. craft at New York Wednesday following a 400-mile trip down the St. Lawrence and Richelieu Rivers, across Lake Camplain, Lake George, the New York State Canal and down the Hudson River.

"It's a lot of trip to make in July," said Keith Tisshau, 21, who acted as navigator.

Shipyard Proposal Of Dollar Wage Cut Rejected By Unions

The Victoria Joint Shipyard Council, representing both A.F.L. and C.C.L. shipyard unions, has rejected the $1 a day wage cut counter-proposal suggested by the Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. and Yarrows Ltd.

The council has written the companies suggesting that it would be willing to throw its lot in with Vancouver shipyard workers for an industry-wide conciliation hearing. It is understood that the Vancouver shipyard unions have or will ask the Labor Relations Board for appointment of a conciliation board to solve differences between the union and the company.

B.C. shipyard unions had demanded a 25 cent an hour wage boost at the opening of negotiations. This was met with a counter-proposal by the Victoria firms of a $1 a day cut in wages.

Police Continue Hunt For 'Firebug'

Efforts of Saanich police so far have been unsuccessful in the search for the person or persons believed responsible for setting the blazes this week which razed many acres of the Ten Mile Point area.

Police do not have much hope of catching the culprits. They say it is practically necessary to catch a person in the act as there are many ways a fire can be set to enable the culprit to be well away from the scene when the trouble breaks.

Police are not discounting altogether the possibility the fires were accidental, but the latest four separate flare-ups appeared as if they had been set.

Charge Yugoslavs Violating Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain and the United States Thursday charged Yugoslavia with violating the Italian peace treaty by introducing Yugoslav currency into its zone of Trieste.

The State Department made public a note which State Secretary Dean Acheson sent to the Yugoslav charge d'affaires here, Milenko Filipovic.

This note said the Yugoslav military administration "has violated the treaty and has followed a policy clearly calculated to tie the Yugoslav zone ever more closely to Yugoslavia."

Press officer Michael McDermott, in making the note public, said he understood the British government had taken similar action.

The British-U.S. action apparently was taken to allay Italian fears that the currency move by Yugoslavia was intended to pave the way for outright annexation of the Yugoslav zone of Trieste.

Britain, the United States and France have said that all Trieste should be handed back to Italy.

20 Per Cent Cut Back In 1949 Timber Output

British Columbia's forest production this year has been cut back by 20 per cent from its all-time record production last year, the B.C. Forest Service reported today.

Not one month during the first five months of this year did production equal that of the corresponding month last year. During the first five months of this year the log scale totaled 1,197,131,912 f.b.m. and 462,171 cubic feet. This compared with a corresponding 1948 production of 1,508,567,739 f.b.m. and 490,152.20 cubic feet.

Some recovery in production has been made, however, since the first two months of this year, when the industry was hampered by difficult weather conditions and a large carry-over from the previous year.

Production in May of this year fell short of May, 1948, production by a smaller percentage than any previous month, thus indicating that the industry is making a strong bid for recovery. May output for the province this year was 339,978,608 f.b.m. and 329,816 cubic feet. The May, 1948, production was 363,575,546 f.b.m. and 37,769.55 cubic feet.

In the Vancouver forest district, scene of the largest logging operations, production in May of this year actually exceeded that of May, 1948. It was the first time this year that Vancouver logging operators had done that.

Production of poles this year has shown a slight increase. During the first five months of the year 9,437,643 lineal feet were cut, compared with 8,730,328 lineal feet during the first five months of 1948.

The decrease in hand-cut fuel wood is very slight. Five-month production this year is 44,090 cords. This compares with 45,518 cords for the corresponding period of 1948.

The hewn tie output also is down by only a slight amount. For the first five months of this year production totaled 193,261, compared with 211,423 for the same period in 1948.

Problems Of India Outlined By Club

The caste system, the appalling poverty and the illiteracy of the people of India are held as the main stumbling blocks in the path of India's development by Rev. M. A. J. Waters, minister of First United Church, who served many years in that country as a missionary.

The minister explained these problems in an address Thursday to the Rotary Club. He described them as "boulders which need blasting."

The caste system, Mr. Waters said, still played a most important part in the day-to-day lives of the Indians even though their government had passed a statute declaring the system abolished. Even Christian Indins held to it.

Those who "break caste," in addition to facing a fine of five rupees, jeopardize their daughters' chances of ever getting married.

The Hindu belief in transmigration of the soul was given as one of the reasons for the Indians' poverty. To illustrate this claim, he explained that 90 per cent of the cows in India were a dead economic loss but were fed and cared for because they are regarded as sacred.

"There are 60 cows for every hundred people and that's a lot of cows," the speaker observed.

Illiteracy, the third factor hindering India's development, was being tackled by the new government under a 40-year education plan.

Veterans Urge Housing Scheme

A committee, representing veterans at the Gordon Head reconverted army camp, will send a letter to Saanich Council pointing out deplorable conditions families live under there.

The committee earlier forwarded a letter to council members asking them again to consider allowing Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation go ahead with a 153-unit low-rental housing scheme on the former Lansdowne airport site.

Council has turned down the application to allow the project, chiefly on the objection against establishing a five-year set taxation at the 1949 assessment requested by the corporation.

One Dead, Five Injured In Ohio Plane Crash

DAYTON, Ohio (UP) — One person was killed and five injured Thursday when a C82 cargo plane crashed off the end of the runway at Wright Field here.

The huge plane, attempting a take-off, came to rest on its back in a Wright Field employee's parking lot, damaging several automobiles.

The plane caught fire immediately, but the flames were extinguished by airport fire fighters.

Police Retired From Ontario Force

TORONTO (CP)—The bizarre case of Provincial Police Constable J. E. Keays of Belleville, Ont., who levelled wholesale charges of misconduct against seven fellow-officers and a Crown attorney, ended Thursday with an official recommendation for his dismissal from the police force.

The recommendation came from Mr. Justice J. Keiller Mackay, who investigated the more than 60 accusations as a one-man Royal Commission and handed down this finding:

"His charges and allegations of wrong-doing, perjury, deceit, inefficiency and unimpartiality against public officials and police officers remain wholly unsupported and are completely without vindication, justification, mitigation or excuse."

But, while the Royal Commissioner found no evidence to support the Keays allegations, he did recommend a reorganization of the Belleville district of the Ontario Provincial Police, including retirement of district Inspector W. A. Page and Sgt. E. F. Hartleib, because of certain "antagonisms, prejudices, misdirected impulses and inflamed passions" which arose prior to and during the inquiry.

Announcing the result of the inquiry, Premier Frost said Constable Keays' dismissal was effective Thursday. The machinery for the superannuation of Insp. Page and Sgt. Hartleib also had been started.

Many green stones, such as emeralds and serpentines, owe their color to the presence of chromium.

Score Swing Shift For Brechin Pupils

NANAIMO—A swing system in use in the school at Brechin was protested by 59 residents of the district in a petition to the board of Nanaimo and district school trustees.

According to the petition one class had a swing system last year and it was understood four classes would adopt it in the autumn.

Belief that the swing system was misunderstood was expressed by Trustee Dr. J. Hart. He felt it caused no hardship at Brechin last term because it was operated on a small scale. He said there was no alternative since a by-law that would have provided more school accommodation had been defeated.

Nanaimo To Study Boundary Extensions

NANAIMO — Proposed extension of city boundaries will be studied in the near future, when a committee from the city council will meet a Chamber of Commerce group, a chamber meeting here was advised.

A brief from the B.C. Telephone Company on its proposed increase in rates, will be studied by a special committee, which will report back to the chamber.

Red Deer Wagon Wins Stampede Race

CALGARY (CP)—The Johnny Phelan outfit did it again Thursday night. For the third straight night, the crack chuck wagon crew from Red Deer, Alta., won the Calgary Stampede's Rangeland Derby, and nothing but a major upset can prevent it from capturing the championship title once more.

It was the fourth consecutive race that the crew made the circuit without one penalty.

Phelan's official time for the fourth race was one minute and 12 seconds.

The Red Deer wagon last won the chuck wagon championship in 1947.

Last year's titleholder, the Johnny Swain outfit of Innisfail, Alta., placed second Thursday night, crossing the finish line in one minute, 13 seconds, a second behind Phelan.

The University of Paris was the model for England's Oxford and Cambridge.

Asks If Britain Has Pact With Soviet

LONDON (UP)—The Conservative Party Thursday demanded the Labor government state whether it has made a new trade agreement with Russia and, if so, whether the U.S. government has been informed of all details.

Oliver Lyttelton made the demand as the first opposition speaker in debate on the dollar crisis.

Ban Two Lifeguards From Empire Games

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver swimmers Bob Thistle and Ted Wilson have been declared professionals by the Amateur Athletic Association, and ruled out of the coming Empire Games trials here.

The A.A.U. has labelled the Vancouver youngsters pros because they work as lifeguards on city beaches during the summer.

In addition, they've ruled the pair may not compete in amateur company until 90 days after termination of their lifeguard jobs.

Mawhinney 1 Down In P.N.G.A. Semis

SEATTLE (AP)—Ray Weston of Spokane hit the 18th hole turn today one up on young Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver, B.C., in the semifinals of the 48th Annual Pacific Northwest Golf Association tournament.

Another northwest youngster, Oregon champion Ronnie Clark of The Dalles, was one down to the Los Angeles veteran Bruce McCormick at the midway mark in the other semifinal tilt.

McCormick and Clark were quite close to par figures. Weston was 3 under par 73 and Mawhinney was 2 under.

U.A.W. Vote 10 Million Strike Fund

MILWAUKEE (UP)—The C.I.O. United Auto Workers voted today for a $10,000,000 strike fund to finance an all-out drive for fourth round wage and pension benefits.

Delegates to the U.A.W. national convention voted unanimously for a resolution pledging the 1,000,000 members and all the resources of their giant union "to winning the objectives of 1949."

Then, by an overwhelming vote, they rammed through an authorization for raising strike assessments from the multi-million dollar "emergency strike fund."

Under the proposal the international executive board will be able to levy $1 a week assessments for as much as 12 weeks on all members of the U.A.W.

The delegates cheered when the resolution carried by about 100 to 1. They debated it only at the insistence of president Walter P. Reuther.

Some delegates, especially in the Ford local, urged that the authorization not be restricted to 12 weeks but made unlimited.

"The callous campaign on the part of big business to put property rights above human rights and to subordinate people to profit," the assessment resolution said, "will compel workers in this period to use all the economic weapons possessed by free labor."

Under the proposal the international executive board will in the case of any emergency be able to levy a $1 a week assessment on all members of the U.A.W. "to be used exclusively for relief of strikers and their families or for expenditures related to the conduct of the strike."

Steel Strike Averted

Three big figures in the negotiations which led, first to the calling of a strike against the big steel companies at midnight, then to its cancellation, are seen above. Left is C.I.O. President Philip Murray; centre, Cyrus Ching, federal mediation chief and right, John A. Stephens, vice-president of U.S. Steel Corporation. The peace move came today when the big steel firms, headed by U.S. Steel accepted President Truman's order for a 60-day truce.

46 Voodoo Murders In Africa Trouble Colonial Officials

LONDON (UP)—The increase in voodoo murders in south-central Africa has got the British government so worried that it has decided to send a Cambridge University professor to investigate.

Dr. G. I. Jones, an expert on tribal customs and ritual murders as well as an anthropology professor, was assigned the task of solving 46 voodoo slayings during the past five years in Basutoland, Bechuanaland and Swaziland.

Jones will leave London sometime next month. He has been asked to recommend a remedy for the outbreak, which has reached the point where natives are selling their own brothers as victims for as little as $400.

Officials at the Commonwealth Relations Office said the voodoo murders usually are caused by tribal members with a lust for power. But other reports have told of men being killed so that witch doctors can use parts of their bodies for love potions and medicines.

The murderers sometimes cut the ears and lips from their victims for presentation to a future "bog chief" who strews the remnants around his tribal hut to ward off evil spirits.

Many murders have been committed by hired killers. Ambitious tribesmen often take professional voodoo men under contract to scout around for likely victims for their sacrifices.

Forty-seven persons were sentenced to death in 1948 alone for complicity in six slayings.

U.N. Personnel Under Probe By Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney-General Tom Clark disclosed today that some 20 or more persons attached to United Nations headquarters in New York are being investigated by the Justice Department.

Clark, testifying before a Senate judiciary sub-committee, mentioned no precise figure on United Nations employees. But he said the department "has espionage and intelligence investigations pending concerning approximately 685 aliens."

He added that about 4 per cent involve persons attached to the United Nations.

Four per cent of 685 would be about 27 or 28.

"This is not to imply," Clark said, "that these parties are actively engaged in espionage or intelligence work but merely that available information requires these investigations and that they are presently in progress."

He went on to say that one employee of the United Nations "is reported to be a contact of a suspected agent of an Iron Curtain country."

Clark added:

"Another employee, who is suspected of working for the intelligence service of an Iron Curtain country, is believed to have obtained a United Nations position through an embassy official of that country."

The committee had Clark before it for a discussion of a bill to tighten immigration barriers against subversive aliens, including any coming to the United States as official representatives of foreign governments or international organizations.

Lightning Bolt Hits Prince Rupert Home

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—A lightning bolt struck the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Backelin—but the couple were in their back garden at the time.

A charred piece of radio licence and blistered casement paint were mute evidence of the couple's narrow escape.

The bolt ignited a window blind and curtains, but swift action by Mr. Backelin prevented further damage.

Health officials report they expect the disease to reach its peak in August.

Poliomyelitis cases in the province now total 35.

Bizarre Events Related

EDMONTON (CP)—A material witness in one of the most bizarre slayings in Edmonton's history today told a preliminary hearing how a 59-year-old warehouse worker met his death and was buried in a potato patch afterwards.

A jammed courtrom heard Alfred (Buster) Robbins tell the court that he saw Michael Hayes, alias Thomas Lee, now charged with murder, fell William Wallace McKay first with a bottle then with an "instrument."

Robbins told the court that he, Hayes and McKay were standing in the kitchen pouring beer into a glass.

"I heard a sound like a shot. Then I noticed a bottle drop and the man's hand slump. He turned and looked up at the accused. Hayes was standing holding the broken neck of a beer bottle in his hand.

"'What's the matter with you, you fool?' I said to Hayes.

"Next thing I remember Mrs. Hayes entered the kitchen from the living-room and shouted for a butcher knife. I pushed her back into the living-room and then re-entered the kitchen.

"That was when I saw Hayes hitting the man with an instrument. Mrs. Hayes again came into the kitchen shouting for the butcher knife and once more I pushed her back into the living-room. Hayes then joined us.

"The woman then said to her husband, 'You've killed him.'"

"'No, I didn't,' Hayes said, 'but I got it.'"

Robbins said he gathered up his loose clothing and left the house "because things were looking bad."

He told the court that he went to an Edmonton rooming-house, where he spent the night. He said he considered reporting it before going to bed, but decided to wait until the next day.

Crown prosecutor Shortreed said Mrs. Hayes, who tipped police off that McKay's body was buried in a potato patch behind their converted railway box car home, would not be called during the preliminary.

The hearing is continuing.

FOUR STAR FINAL

Vancouver Man Admits Robbing Oak Bay Home

Alexander McLachlan, 26-year-old Vancouver man, pleaded guilty to his fourth charge in police court this week when he appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall in Oak Bay police court this afternoon.

He admitted breaking into the home of A. L. Stevenson, 2701 Dufferin Avenue, by night and stealing two radios, two pocket watches, a ring, a brief case, a cheque book, two wallets and other articles on May 21.

As Magistrate Hall wished a report from the probation officer before passing sentence, McLachlan was remanded to the next Friday afternoon session of the court.

Accused also is awaiting sentence on three charges of forgery to which he pleaded guilty in city police court during the last few weeks. He has been remanded to Monday for sentence. Cheques involved were for a total of $381.58.

His arrest came after Hugh Francis of F. W. Francis Ltd., jewelers, had become suspicious when McLachlan tendered a cheque, made out in the name of A. Stevenson for $274.33, to purchase a ring. Detective P. W. Richards caught McLachlan after a short chase.

Constable R. M. Smith of Oak Bay police told the court the circumstances of the Oak Bay robbery. He said the stolen articles were recovered.
